Bunko Men Victimize an Aged Philadelphian.

SULLIVAN OUT WITH A CHALLENGE

The Transcontinental Pool in Danger of Disruption—The Texas Strike Ended—The Maxwell-Preller Sensation—Etc.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 30.—A special dispatch to the Times from Atlantic City, N J, says Charles Fields Sr, who is over 80 years of age and who has been in business in Philadelphia for over fifty years, was to-day victimized out of $8,600 by a brace of bunko steerers in Atlantic City. Mr Fields and son, who is associated with his father in business at 47 Market street, Philadelphia, as general agents of Clark's spool cotton, have cottages adjoining each other on Illinois avenue, nearly opposite the Traymore house. Mr Fields, Sr, took a stroll after dinner when he met a young man of good address, who after a courteous handshaking stated that he was an old friend of his that had been clerk for the Pennsylvania National bank and since his resignation had been abroad. The man told old Mr Fields that he had brought several fine pictures from Europe which he would be pleased to have him inspect. Fields went with him to a house where he was introduced to a game played on a board with tumblers on it and with a spinning arrow, presumably a sweat board. Two other gentlemen were introduced and they played the game, winning over $100 each. Mr Fields was invited to join the game, and he lost over $100 but continued to play. After playing some time the bunko men coolly asked the old gentleman for his check for $8,600 drawn to himself as collateral for the grand prize he had drawn on the sweat board. The check was filled out and Mr Fields signed it. The check was on the Pennsylvania National bank of Philadelphia. Later in the day Fields, realizing that he had been swindled, started out to find the house but was unable to find it. It is thought here that Mr Bunkoman has carried the check to New York and negotiated it at a large discount.

PRIZE MONEY DIVIDED

EL PASO, Aug 30.—The work of balancing up the regularly kept books of the Mexican custom house in Paso del Norte was completed yesterday afternoon to show the amount of fines collected during the past three months to be divided among officials. The result showed $10,000 and each official was paid his portion of the legalized robbery. The amount was larger than for last quarter but the heavy bleeding of American merchants continues all the time, for fines not turned in to the public treasury are allowed to the customs officers, and on the slightest pretext merchants are heavily assessed. This odious system injures trade with Mexico, more than any other cause. The Mexican Central railroad during the past quarter was fined to the extent of $3,600 and El Paso wholesale firms suffered to the extent of $2,200 after paying nearly $50,000 in regular duties. The farce closed to-day by Collector Loiza and his subordinates inviting the merchants legally robbed to visit Paso del Norte to dine, and policy caused a limited number to accept the hospitality extended.

SULLIVAN MAKES A BOLD CHALLENGE

CINCINNATI, Aug 30.—In his challenge of last night to John L. Sullivan for a fight with bare knuckles Dominick McCaffery proposed to put up the same amount as his adversary. To-night Sullivan issued a challenge for a fight to a finish with or without gloves to take place inside of three weeks at a private place. As to stakes Sullivan offers to put up $5000 to McCaffery's $3000 that he can whip him. Man and money are at Sullivan's saloon, Grand opera house building, this city.

TOLEDO, O, Aug 30.—Concerning the Sullivan and McCaffery mill, the Commercial Telegram will say to-morrow morning: Referee Tate was seen last evening and questioned as to his decision at Cincinnati Saturday. He has made no decision. He thinks Sullivan had the best of the fight so far as fighting points were concerned, but if the Boston boy was to knock out McCaffery in six rounds he failed, as the Pittsburg lad came up smiling every round. He has not seen the agreement as yet under which they fought and cannot in consequence render a decision.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN COMMISSION

NEW YORK, Aug 29.—Carl von Loewenthal, stenographer and acting secretary of the South American commission, says: In many of those countries the United States was not known among the common people. They knew England, France and Germany, but the United States suggest to their minds about as much as do Iceland or Malta. Two states which received us coldly were Venezuela and Chili. The latter is the wildest land I ever got into. The Chilians think they could whip the United States without any difficulty. In Costa Rica, Buenos Ayres, Guatemala, Ecuador and Peru we were received with open arms. All those countries favor adopting an international silver coinage. Most of them favor our standard. In all these states as in all their principal cities there are English and French bazars, but no representative American stores except in Valparaiso.

THE BARTHOLDI STATUE

NEW YORK, Aug 29.—Although Gen Stone's report on the Bartholdi pedestal construction was read several days ago, no copy has been obtainable by the press, which is indulging in some unenviable comments on Stone's bookkeeping. The Tribune says: "Nearly $300,000 will be expended on the pedestal when it is completed. It will cost $20,000 or more to mount the statue, and a like amount to beautify Bedloe island. Many changes have been made in the original plans, but so far as known none of the changes adopted will diminish the expenditure, while many will increase it. It is reported in Gen Stone's office that practically no books have been kept, but memoranda on slips of paper have been the only data."

ABSORBED BY THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

GALVESTON, Aug 30.—A special to the News from Cuero, this state, says: The Southern Pacific Railway company have obtained control of the New York, Texas & Mexican railway, which runs from Rosenburg Junction to Victoria, a distance of ninety-two miles. The road will be operated in conjunction with the Gulf, Western Texas & Pacific railway, forming a through line from New Orleans to Victoria, Cuero and Indianola, giving passengers and mails better facilities than heretofore. There will be no change in tariff rates. This branch of the Southern Pacific will be under the management of M D Monserrat, president of the Gulf, Western Texas & Pacific railway.

OUR WHEAT SURPLUS

NEW YORK, Aug 29.—The Financial Chronicle says: "The decline in wheat has certainly strained speculators who have been trying to carry our large surplus at prices that Europe was not willing to pay. This is the third occasion within four years that we have kept our crop when we might have realized a good price for it, only to sell it at a less figure later on. The decline appears to have had no effect on business at western trade centers. One reason is perhaps that most of the old surplus is in the hands of speculators, the farmers having got rid of it at a fair price. Still there is a large crop of spring wheat to come forward.

IN THE INTEREST OF RIEL

COHOES, N Y, Aug 30.—A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of French Canadians of this city was held this [illegible] in behalf of Riel, the condemned Canadian rebel. Addresses were delivered by prominent [illegible] citizens of this city and [illegible]. [illegible] asking for the intervention of the United States government [illegible] was unanimously adopted. The petition, which is signed by all the French residents, states that Riel is a citizen of the United States, and that his trial was not a fair one.

THE "STAR" TO BE RESURRECTED

NEW YORK, Aug 29.—United States District Attorney Dorsheimer has paid $75,000 for the New York Star material. The paper is to be resurrected as an administration organ with strong political and financial backing. The Tammany interest has been eliminated and the purchasers have taken a ten years' lease of the premises. The Star will be issued as a two-cent paper. It is privately stated that Dorsheimer has a bitter grudge against Pulitzer, which he will settle in the new administration organ.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL POOL

The Sunset Route's Demand Likely to Cause a Bitter Fight

ST PAUL, Aug 29.—The Pioneer Press says: The meeting of the Transcontinental association in St Paul on September 8 promises to be of more than ordinary importance. The Sunset route is still the disturbing element. The Southern Pacific railway company, which controls that route, wants all its transcontinental freight to leave by water. It does not care whether its Central Pacific line running east from San Francisco to connect with the Union Pacific gets a pound of freight or not. It is willing to sacrifice that line in the interest of the water and rail route, because by the latter it gets a long haul. This desire is natural and other roads interested in transcontinental traffic are willing that the Southern Pacific should receive for its route a fair percentage of the association earnings. It however wants more than a fair percentage. It wants the allotment of percentages based upon the business transacted during the first six months of the current year, during which time the Sunset route carried fully seventy-five per cent of through Pacific coast business. It secured this large amount of business by cutting rates to such low figures that all rail lines could not think of accepting business, even if it had been offered to them at the Sunset rates. The result is likely to be a combination of other transcontinental lines, as against the Southern Pacific. Years ago the Southern Pacific could have acted thus arbitrarily, but it can do so no longer. There are too many other lines to reach the Pacific coast metropolis without its assistance, and consequently they will not be bulldozed into granting the Southern Pacific all it asks. There are practically three lines which can reach San Francisco independently of the Southern Pacific. These are the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific. Both the Union and the Northern Pacific can reach San Francisco by water from Portland. They are not so much interested in California business as the other roads, but should they find it necessary to sit down upon the Southern Pacific it would not take them long to have steamers running regularly between Portland and San Francisco.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE ST. LOUIS COUNTERFEITER

ST LOUIS, Aug 30.—It having been said and spread abroad that a statement made by Lucien White and now in the hands of the United States district attorney is of the nature of a confession of his connection with the scheme to counterfeit Brazilian bank notes, the assistant attorney says it is simply a voluntary statement and cannot be put in evidence or in any way used against White, nor can the district attorney testify to what it contains. The only value it possesses is in giving information of confederates. White, in an interview in which he repeats much that has already been published, says the man who first broached to him the project of having Brazilian treasury notes imitated for use as labels was his brother Joseph and not Lane as heretofore stated. The whole matter of printing was arranged at the house of his brother in Texas and he then came to St Louis to carry on the plan. He denies, however, that it was the intention to use these notes for anything but cigar box labels. He speaks of two or three persons he and his brother met in New York last spring, on their return from Europe, among them Hermann and Charles Levy of No. 1106 Fulton street, Capt Cunningham and a Mrs Cutters, but he does not know that either of them knew anything about this scheme, although he now suspects that one of the Levys had been consulted by his brother Joseph.

IS PRELLER ALIVE?

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 30.—A telegram from Wilkesbarre says: The mysterious stranger who registered at the Exchange hotel last Monday, and who greatly resembled the printed description of Preller, alleged victim of the St Louis tragedy, took his departure yesterday. Before leaving he drank freely, became very talkative, and alluded frequently to the Maxwell-Preller tragedy. He was very outspoken in his opinion that Preller is alive and would turn up in due course of time. It is possible that this may be Preller in disguise. It is not known where he went from here. When Maxwell was brought back from New Zealand currency was given to a rumor that the body found in the trunk at the St Louis hotel was not that of Preller, but the remains of some pauper placed there to deceive the insurance companies who were heavily indebted to Preller. Maxwell, the supposed murderer, said recently that Preller was heavily insured and that he was still alive. While it is possible that Preller may still be in the land of the living, the odds are against any such belief. Still it is a fact that a letter was mailed in the postoffice in this city addressed to Maxwell. The stranger seemed to have plenty of money, but did no business and seemed to be idling his time away while here.

CALIFORNIA.

THE AXE TO DROP TO-DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 30.—To-morrow will be a day of anxiety in local political circles, for it is expected that several changes will be made in the United States sub-treasury and the mint. It is thought that in the latter institution the force will be reduced by the discharge of fifty employes, and there is almost a painful eagerness to know the names of the doomed victims.

It is thought that not more than twenty of the fifty places will be refilled, as economy will be the watchword of the new democratic officials for some time. At least about 3000 men think that the twenty places are for them, so that there is sure to be sorrow in the democratic camp after Judge Lawton reads his verdict on Tuesday.

There is much dissatisfaction among those out of office and eager for federal employment on account of the competition of men who are already provided with places more or less profitable and comfortable. Several men on the police force are moving heaven and earth to get in the appointments in the mint. Some employes in the new city hall who received fat salaries for very little work are also hanging around the mint eager to receive recognition from Judge Lawton. This naturally excites the ire of the unprovided ones who think that their situation is likely to be desperate enough without having the struggle for the places intensified by the interference of well fed favorites of the municipality, with snug little nest-eggs in the savings banks.

It is stated without much exaggeration that every man in Alameda who rendered Judge Lawton any political service is a candidate for a place in the mint. The new superintendent certainly finds his position at present anything but a bed of roses, for the pressure brought to bear on him is something awful to contemplate.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER

S F, Aug 30.—Signal service indications for the succeeding thirty-two hours: North Pacific—Fair weather, light variable winds, generally northwesterly. Middle Pacific—Fair weather, variable winds, generally fresh to brisk northwesterly along the coast. South Pacific—Fair weather, variable winds, generally light to fresh westerly.

SHOOTING AT OAKLAND

Another shooting affair is reported to have occurred in Oakland this evening. Henry Grant, living at [illegible] Turk street, San Francisco, shot a Mrs [illegible] and then shot himself. The woman is not expected to live.

A REDUCTION ORDERED

Superintendent Brandt of the Oregon & California [illegible] is about to reduce the working force on his line in pursuance of an order from headquarters to reduce the expenses of the road [illegible] per cent.

DYING

Judge [illegible] of this city is said to be at the point of death. He was a prominent lawyer and prominently known as one of the California code commissioners.

FROM THE SEALING GROUNDS

The Alaska Commercial company's steamer St Paul, which arrived here late last night, brought down 80,000 sealskins, valued at over a million dollars.

FIRE IN CHINATOWN

BAKERSFIELD, Aug 30.—Fire broke out this morning in the Chinese theater and joss house, entirely consuming that building, a large Chinese restaurant, the store of [illegible] Wah Hing, with merchandise valued at $1,500 and several smaller buildings. Only the remarkable efficiency of the fire department prevented a disastrous conflagration. The fire originated in the theater from the candle of an opium fiend who was reposing on the stage. Loss $5,000, no insurance.

RAILROAD NOTES

THE STRIKE IN TEXAS ENDED

GALVESTON, Aug 30.—The strike on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad reached a crisis here to-day and resulted this evening in both sides agreeing to arbitrate the matter. At noon Sheriff Stevens with a posse, consisting of fifty leading citizens armed with Winchesters and revolvers, proceeded to the roundhouse where the strikers and their supporters were congregated. Two companies of militia [illegible] two twelve-pound cannon accompanied the posse. Arriving at the roundhouse the sheriff and military entered the building and turned out of it 200 Knights of Labor. Several times a conflict seemed imminent, but the day was bloodless. When the 2 o'clock excursion train from Houston arrived the strikers [illegible] the engine [illegible] police or militia [illegible]. Great excitement prevailed. Several thousand persons were present. Two strikers were arrested for interfering with trains. Finally about [illegible] a delayed freight train [illegible] guarded by twenty of the sheriff's posse. When the train was obstructed by the strikers they gave vent to violent expressions, and a bloody conflict seemed imminent. During this time leading members of the Knights of Labor were in consultation with a number of the Santa Fe officials who formed a portion of the sheriff's posse, and an agreement to arbitrate was finally reached. Pending such arbitration the men will resume work at once. As a consequence the yards present a very busy scene to-night and trains are moving as fast as they can be loaded.

Native Wines

Philadelphia Press

It seems almost incredible, and yet the San Francisco [illegible] is the authority for the statement that since 1870 the amount of foreign wine consumed in the United States was [illegible] per cent of the total consumption, and in 1880 only 17.8 per cent, and is now even less than that. The importance of our vineyards is annually increasing, and fine home made wine is taking the place of the adulterated foreign wines. In many places in Europe the manufacture of wine is openly carried on, notably in the city of Hamburg. There is a wine factory there that makes wine of any kind, at any price and puts upon it any label. The buyer must indicate what he wants and the price, and the wine is made. Any quantity of wine is made there at half a mark (about twelve cents) per quart bottle, and that is not the cheapest.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Lord Hartington Replies to Parnell's Recent Speech.

POLITICAL NEWS AND GOSSIP

An Irate Husband Whips the Alleged Seducer of His Wife at Dublin—Frightful Reports from the Cholera Districts

LONDON, Aug 30.—The Marquis of Hartington, who was minister of war under the Gladstone government, delivered an address at Rossendale yesterday in which he urged the extension of local self government so that parliament might be enabled to give its attention solely to imperial legislation. No party, he said, would ever concede Mr Parnell's demands, the ultimate result of which would be to bind British members, irrespective of politics, to combine to keep the empire intact. Lord Hartington said he was glad that Parnell had explicitly defined his position and the conditions on which his alliance could be purchased. He thought that no political party in England would consent to acquire or retain office by conceding to Parnell's demands. He believed that that gentleman had for once made a mistake in openly stating his demand and thereby insuring his own defeat. If he persisted in his policy of obstruction means would be found by a practically united people to impose a final veto on proposals that were fatal to the integrity and prosperity of the empire. Lord Hartington disclaimed the extreme socialistic programme of the Chamberlain party, and favored moderate measures of land reform.

THE EUROPEAN MONEY MARKETS

LONDON, Aug 30.—The London money market displayed more activity during the past week, caused by gold withdrawals for Egypt, fears of an export of gold to America in the autumn and talk of a revival of trade. Three month bills were quoted at 1¼, shorter dates at 1⅛, and short loans at 1½. The stock market was active. Up to the latter portion of the week prices improved, but subsequently eased off, owing to speculative realizations. There is still a hopeful feeling that a large speculative account for a rise will open in all the departments, although the public does not appear eager to take stock, support of the bear account having been withdrawn. Some signs of a downward reaction were apparent. Americans showed a decline of ¼ to 1¾ for the week.

The Paris bourse was firm through the week. At the close 3 per cent rentes were 81f 75c, Panama canal [illegible] and Suez canal [illegible].

At Berlin the market has been somewhat dull but the majority of quotations have been fully maintained. Mine owners in France, Germany, Belgium and Spain have completed a zinc convention. England and America are now the only countries which continental producers have to compete with. Germany will shortly sign a customs treaty with Turkey. The porte has granted Germany valuable concessions. A proposal to apply the workmen insurance bill to accidents at sea will be submitted to the next reichstag.

At Frankfort business during the week was limited with a firm tendency at the close.

PAIN BELIEVED TO BE ALIVE

NEW YORK, Aug 29.—An Arab living in London, who was formerly El Mahdi's secret agent here, has informed the peace society that he arranged the details of Olivier Pain's journey from the British line into El Mahdi's camp at El Obeid, by El Mahdi's express command. Pain was provided with an ample bodyguard. If he has been killed the Arab believes it must have been by British soldiers, either with or without special orders. These statements have strengthened the belief that Pain is alive.

At a meeting of French residents of London in Leicester square yesterday, resolutions were passed denouncing Rochefort for needlessly creating bad blood between France and England.

GLADSTONE LEAVES NORWAY

LONDON, Aug 30.—Mr Gladstone left Molde, Norway, on the yacht Sunbeam yesterday for the Shetland islands.

EUROPEAN POLITICS

QUEEN VICTORIA AND THE SULTAN—[illegible]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug 30.—In an interview with the sultan, Sir H D Wolff read a personal message from Queen Victoria to the sultan expressing her best wishes for peace and friendship. The queen refers to previous acquaintance with the sultan and recalls the loyalty of the sultan's father as a friend and ally of England. She says she hopes to help the sultan to establish a government in Egypt beneficial equally to the sultan's rights, the happiness of the Egyptians and the interests of England and the powers, and that this will be the basis of Sir H D Wolff's efforts. The sultan made a gracious reply, saying he valued the friendship of Queen Victoria and an alliance with England. He added that he would designate persons to confer with Sir H D Wolff respecting Egypt and would grant a further audience on the [illegible].

LONDON, Aug 30.—It is reported that the Turkish government has completed proposals for a discussion with Sir H D Wolff, on the basis of England's immediate evacuation of Egypt. The grand vizier and his party are in favor of the withdrawal of the English, and are opposed to joint occupation of Egypt. A section of the ministers are inclined to meet England half way.

A PROTEST AGAINST GERMANY

BARCELONA, Aug 30.—A public meeting was held here to-day to protest against the seizure of the Caroline islands by Germany. The populace demanded that the Spanish flag be hoisted on the government building and became enraged when the authorities refused to comply with their demands. The main door of the building was set on fire by the mob and the military had to be called out to restore order.

THE CAROLINE DISPUTE

BERLIN, Aug 30.—The German government is still awaiting the reply of the Spanish government to its proposal to refer the Carolines question to arbitration.

BERLIN, Aug 30.—It is remarked that the recent Anglo-German Pacific agreement comprised a mutual declaration in regard to the Carolines. It is denied that a Spanish commissioner has come here with reference to the Carolines. All negotiations between the two governments are intrusted to the Spanish ambassador here.

THE VARZIN CONFERENCE

VIENNA, Aug 30.—Count Kalnoky has returned from Varzin. It is learned that Prince Bismarck maintains the conviction that protection alone will save German industries. The German chancellor urged Count Kalnoky to adopt the strongest protective measures for Austria. German competition in coal and cereals continues to weigh heavily on Austrian producers.

JAPAN'S FRIENDSHIP WANTED

ST PETERSBURG, Aug 30.—The Official Messenger says the English press at Yokohama has unsuccessfully tried to excite the European and the Japanese against Russia. It is hoped that Mr Hubbard, the new United States minister to Japan, will continue Mr Bingham's anti-English policy.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION

LONDON, Aug 30.—The close of the fourth week in August shows the total number of deaths in Spain from cholera by tables to be [illegible], while the death rate is still much over 1000 each day. The plague has diminished in Granada and most of the provinces that were attacked before the middle of July, save in Cuenca, but is increasing steadily in Almeria and Barcelona.

From France outside of Marseilles and Toulon no news is to be had, though it is known that the pest is spreading daily. Cases of persons dying in two or three hours are very common. The victim is stricken down [illegible]. Among the deaths at Granada was that of Herr Wedemann, a young German [illegible] writer of an important [illegible].

A DISASTROUS RIOT

MADRID, Aug 30.—A riot has occurred at [illegible]. The increasing cholera mortality has driven most of the wealthy residents from the city, and a large number of poor people were deprived of employment. This desertion on the part of the rich employers enraged the laboring people and the feeling of indignation culminated in a riotous outbreak. Many of the houses of the wealthy were wrecked by the mob. The soldiers [illegible] persons were killed and several others were wounded.

[illegible]

MARSEILLES, Aug [illegible].—There were fifty-three deaths from cholera in this city on Saturday. There are eight persons in the Pharo hospital.

MARSEILLES, Aug 30.—There were 24 deaths from cholera here to-day. At the Pharo hospital [illegible] patients were admitted and there were 4 deaths. There are now 70 patients under treatment, [illegible] of whom are convalescing.

AT TOULON

TOULON, Aug 30.—Fifty-six persons died of cholera here on Saturday. Seven thousand persons have fled from the city, and about 100 shops are closed.

TOULON, Aug 30.—During the past twenty-four hours there were 20 deaths from cholera in this city. The weather is cooler.

AT NAGASAKI, JAPAN

LONDON, Aug 30.—A dispatch has been received here, stating that cholera has appeared at Nagasaki, Japan, and that the presence of the scourge has created great excitement, especially among foreigners.

SATURDAY'S RECORD

MADRID, Aug 30.—Returns from cholera infected districts in Spain for Saturday show [illegible] new cases in Spain and [illegible] deaths from the disease.

A DUBLIN SENSATION.

An Irate Husband Whips his Wife's Alleged Seducer—The Men Well Known.

LONDON, Aug 30.—The fracas in Dublin Thursday when John Pollak thrashed Capt Barry of the Royal Horse artillery and John Albert Blakely, deputy lieutenant for county Galway, is expected to result in some sensational revelations of the manners, customs and morality of the Irish aristocracy, especially that portion represented by the Dublin castle clique. Capt Barry, who is a son of Lord Justice Barry, first met Mrs Pollak at a ball given by Earl Spencer while lord lieutenant of Ireland in Dublin castle. An eye witness of the affray says that Pollak concealed himself behind a pillar about half an hour before Barry appeared, and as the latter mounted the outside of a car Pollak seized him by the throat with his left hand and vigorously used his walking stick with the right, at the same time yelling, "You scoundrel, seducer and wife-stealer!" The horse attached to the car became restless during the row and Barry tumbled from the car into the gutter with Pollak on top still whacking him and his face bleeding from the effect of several blows. A number of members of the Kildare club stood in the doorway of the club house laughing at the affair and not inclined to interfere to stop the fight until a cry of "police" was raised, when mutual friends separated the contestants. It was with difficulty that Pollak was pulled away from Barry, and when the former retired from the scene of the fight he shouted, "You know where to find me if you want satisfaction."

CAPT BARRY'S STORY

In an interview to-day Capt Barry said: "I had just mounted a car and was pulling on my gloves when Pollak rushed from a pillar and seized my foot. I then jumped down to the pavement and he struck me several times with a stick. The blows were trivial and did me no injury. I threw down my cane and in the tussel which ensued I captured his stick and still hold possession of it. Friends here interfered and the affair ended. In accordance with the unwritten code I have placed the matter in the hands of the colonel of my regiment and will abide by his advice, which will probably be to institute civil action for damages, when I shall thoroughly expose the character of Pollak."

A dispatch from Galway says the parties concerned in the affray are magistrates and well known in the county. Capt Barry was Earl Spencer's aide-de-camp while the earl was lord lieutenant of Ireland.

After the fight with Barry Pollak mounted Pat Fallon's car, reputed to be the fastest in Dublin, and drove to Burlington road, where he met and whipped John Blakely, who had been yachting with him just previous to the quarrel. The reason alleged for Pollak thrashing Blakely is that the latter threatened to spoil Pollak's chances in the latter's action for divorce from his wife by testifying that Pollak himself was an adulterer and that he frequently had women of bad character aboard his yacht during his trips.

IRELAND.

LAND LEAGUE MEETING

DUBLIN, Aug 30.—A large league meeting was held at Killarney to-day. T M Healey, M P, spoke on the land question. He advised the people to abstain from committing outrages, especially when likely to serve the interests of landlords and policemen, and that they should not put all their trust in the Irish party in the house of commons, who are only the sappers and miners in the army carrying the war into the enemy's camp. Mr O'Brien, M P, followed. He declared that the advantage gained would never be lost and that landlords must be abolished.

A FORCIBLE APPEAL

The Catholic Citizen of Milwaukee, which may be taken as a representative journal in the widest sense, contains the following appeal to the voters of that city in behalf of the high license there:

The success, the good policy and the sagacity of high license is demonstrated beyond doubt or cavil. The license law of 1885—passed by a republican legislature—is one of the wisest measures ever enacted in this state. Open it certainly is to improvement, but however short it may fall of the full requirement it was certainly a long stride in advance.

Now the people of this city and of other towns throughout the state are contemplating special elections under the provisions of the law. Upon petition of twelve freeholders the city clerk is compelled to issue notice for a special vote on the third Tuesday of September. Citizens may then decide whether the license shall be $200 (as it remains in most of our cities) or $500. The election once held the question cannot again come up for three years.

It is already arranged that Milwaukee will vote upon this question a month hence. Let all public spirited citizens not only vote but work energetically for a $500 license. It is a rare opportunity. It is an excellent cause. And every man, woman and child who reads these columns can do something to reach the desired result.

Look at the benefits it will confer upon the community.

A $500 fee will increase the city's revenues. Milwaukee gained $105,000 by increasing the fee from $[illegible] to $200.

It will lower the rate of every man's taxes.

It will compel the liquor traffic to bear its just share of the public burdens.

It will kill off the tenement doggeries and the disreputable saloons.

It will farther tend to the better government of the entire liquor traffic.

These and many other public ends will be served by a $500 license fee. The special election on the third Tuesday of September will be of more importance than any that Milwaukee has had for years. No man should be absent from the polls. No apathy should be tolerated. A full vote should be called out, and the time to urge your friends to persuade your neighbors to arouse the apathetic to bring out the young men is now. By quiet conversation and by friendly intercourse every man can wield an influence in this good work that will double and quadruple the effect of his vote.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION

Chicago Inter Ocean: If President Cleveland would take photographs of all his applicants and appointees it would be of great service to detectives in the future.

A STATEMENT BY MR NOLTNER

The following letter appeared in the Washington Post of August [illegible]:

In the Washington dispatch of the [illegible] instant to the New York Sun I am credited with the opinion that Hon A Bush, a citizen of Salem, Or, was the author of the letter to which the president replied so appropriately. I have no knowledge as to who was the author of that letter. But like most people I have had my suspicions, which have been [illegible] by the article in the Post of the [illegible]. I would not notice the matter were it not that I am credited with vouching for the truth of the publication thereof. No Oregonian familiar with the past history of that state would vouch for the correctness of the statement that the late Senator Nesmith was a Breckenridge democrat, nor would he place the residence of Judge Deady at Portland. There are other errors, but not important enough to deserve correction. It seems strange to me that the letter attributed to Oregon should have been written in regard to Judge Deady. But your evidence seems conclusive in the matter. As one of Judge Deady's indorsers I have no regrets, and think he has the abilities and will make a good judge and reflect no discredit upon the administration that has honored him. A NOLTNER

Quaker Testimony

Mrs A M Dauphin, a Quaker lady of Philadelphia, has done a great deal to make known to ladies there the great value of Mrs Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a cure for their troubles and diseases. She writes as follows: "A young lady of this city while bathing, some years ago was thrown violently against the life line and the injuries received resulted in an ovarian tumor which grew and enlarged until death seemed certain. Her physician finally advised her to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound. She did so and in a short time the tumor was dissolved or caused to slough off, and she is now in perfect health. I also know of many cases where the medicine has been of great value in preventing miscarriage and alleviating the pains and dangers of childbirth. Philadelphia ladies appreciate the worth of this medicine and its great value."

THE NEWS OF SATURDAY

Following is an epitome of the news of Saturday, printed in full in the SUNDAY OREGONIAN:

THE SULLIVAN-McCAFFERY FIGHT

The sparring match between John L. Sullivan and Dominick McCaffrey at Cincinnati drew a crowd of 7000. Wm Tate of Cleveland was the referee. At [illegible] time was called for the first round, which was devoid of heavy slugging and ended in a clinch. There was but a minute's breathing spell between rounds. In the second round McCaffrey gave Sullivan some hard blows, and a clinch followed, the champion pressing the Pittsburger to the ropes, where danger seemed imminent, but McCaffrey slipped away and the men went to their corners. In the third round Sullivan drove McCaffrey around the ring and twice forced him on to the ropes. McCaffrey retreated to his corner closely pressed and when near the edge of the platform either tripped or was struck by Sullivan and came near falling to the ground. After this McCaffrey was more cautious and the round was soon ended. In the fourth round Sullivan punished his man severely. It ended with another fall by McCaffrey, though not claimed as a knockdown. The fifth round was uneventful. In the sixth and last round Sullivan seemed desperate. It was apparent that he was growing weary, while McCaffrey was fresher. Sullivan closed, and they gave a number of in blows and separated. Sullivan kept pushing his adversary around, and when near the ropes they clinched. Both fell. Rising Sullivan closed again, but this time McCaffrey got away without a fall, and delivered a light blow on Sullivan, who sent a terrific blow back, but McCaffrey ducked and escaped, and the time of the sixth round expired. A great shout went up from the crowd, who supposed that McCaffrey had won. He had stood up against Sullivan through six rounds, and seemed able and willing to go on to a finish. He was overwhelmed with congratulations, while Sullivan was left to be cared for by his stage attendants only. As the crowd understood the terms it was a draw, and thus a virtual victory for the young Pittsburger, but after some time, when three-fourths of the people had started for the train and while the remainder were in loud discussion of the merits of the match, Mr. Muldoon made an announcement, which only a few heard, that the referee had decided to give the match to Sullivan on the ground that he had made the greater number of points. McCaffrey has already challenged Sullivan to fight for $[illegible] and the championship of the world. Bare knuckles are to be the rule, the fight to be to a finish. It is to take place in Wyoming or any other place where it will not be interfered with, and fought within three months after signing the articles.

DOMESTIC

During the first seven months of the present year 840 Chinese landed at San Francisco.

The Knights of Labor boycott on the Wabash and Missouri Pacific roads has been raised.

The Indian agent at Crow Creek, Dakota, has been instructed to remove all settlers from the reservation.

Civil Service Commissioner Thoman is on his way west to conduct examinations in Washington territory and other places.

John Lee of Indiana has been appointed superintendent of the Forest Grove industrial school in Oregon, vice W T Coffin, removed.

"Lucky" Baldwin is having trouble with his jockeys and trainers. He was sued for $4000 and the running horses Volante and Primero were seized. The attachment was vacated, however, and the horses sent to Chicago.

A reduction of one cent per pound in the freight rate on hops from the Pacific coast to eastern points has been made by all transcontinental roads. The old rate was three cents. The new rate goes into effect September 1.

A decision was rendered at San Francisco by Superior Judge Maguire against Joseph Brandenstein, Esberg, Bachman & Co et al, and in favor of Wilcher Jones, in which millions of dollars are involved. Jones sued defendants, who were his former partners, for mismanaging and destroying the business and freezing him out.

Edward Hanlan has sent a note to Turf, Field and Farm proposing three rowing races, each of three miles with a turn, for $1000 or more on each race, one to be Hanlan against Courtney within six weeks, one with Peter Conley on the day following, and one double sculls between Hanlan and [illegible] against Courtney and Conley.

A remarkable letter, postmarked Wilkesbarre, Pa, has been received by Maxwell at St Louis. It was taken in charge by the authorities. It purports to be from Preller, and the handwriting and signatures are almost a counterfeit of the samples which the officials have and which were found in Preller's baggage. Preller announces in the letter that he will arrive in time for the trial and [illegible] the St Louis police.

It is rumored in European capitals that Prince Bismarck is desirous of securing possession of Cuba. It is strongly maintained in some quarters that Bismarck has for a long time had his eye on Cuba, and that he has assured himself of the support of certain western American sugar interests in his scheme.

RICHMOND BESIEGED.

Plenty of Food for Money During the War—The Conscription of Negroes.

From the Washington Republican.

Contrary to the common belief there was no lack of provisions or delicacies in Richmond at any time during the war, but the prices measured by alleged dollars were simply stupendous. I do not remember that there was any actual suffering among the people, although food and drink were of course economically dealt with. I recollect also that there was a bread riot of so large proportion as to call for the intervention of the military, but the women, black and white, who were the chief participants were of the lowest class and were instigated not [illegible] want so much as pure deviltry. It is a curious fact that what are called the lower classes fared better as far as provisions [illegible] the old [illegible] holders or wealthier citizens. The salaries of the [illegible] office holders [illegible] of the state and [illegible] were grossly inadequate to provide for their families, and the wealthier citizens at the outset of the war had invested almost without exception all their available means in the 8 per cent bonds of the Confederate government. Those who owned slaves, by hiring them out obtained large returns, for labor was in great demand, but the trouble was that the Confederate authorities conscripted all able bodied negroes as drivers of mule teams, laborers on the fortifications, etc, just as they conscripted able bodied whites for service in the field, and the hire given to the master was but a tithe of what could have been procured in open market.

Talk about Washington being a city of boarding houses! [illegible] the confederate capital. Nearly every house, and especially of people of limited means, was filled with lodgers and nearly every other house was an eating house. The poorer whites and blacks made money hand over fist by cooking provisions and selling them from stands on the streets and at the depots to the huge swarms of hungry people who were constantly coming and going. The population proper of Richmond was not a fourth of the vast crowd that daily and nightly congregated within the corporate limits. It was the Mecca of the confederacy, and the pilgrimages made thereto were constant in their coming. Officers and soldiers, detailed [illegible], merchants, [illegible], blockade runners, refugees from Maryland and West Virginia and from counties of the state held by the federals poured in a steady stream into the city, and the people of the city made their living and indeed it may be said in many instances waxed fat in feeding and lodging the hungry horde. The home guards, organized to defend the capital, comprised all the officials in the confederate and state departments, and no man was exempt who was able to fire a rifle from behind a breastwork. These held no drills but marched in a body, without regular order, to the breastworks when the alarm bell in the capitol square rang forth the warning peal of the approach of the enemy.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, AUGUST 31, 1885.

H. W.

A PRACTICAL VIEW OF IT

"The press of Oregon," says The Dalles Times-Mountaineer, "with the exception of THE OREGONIAN, is a unit in favor of the opening of the Columbia river." And THE OREGONIAN is as much in favor of opening it as any of the rest. But it displeases some who have but a single idea and who look at but one-half of that, to find THE OREGONIAN saying what it must say in behalf of truth and good sense, that the man is not now living who will see the Columbia river opened, and it is doubtful whether his yet unborn children will. It is an undertaking that will require an indefinite time, upon the system which the government pursues in matters of this kind. As THE OREGONIAN has repeatedly said, let us get all the appropriations we can for it, but let us not deceive ourselves with the notion that it is a work that is going to be accomplished so as to be of practical use to the men of this generation, or of the next. What's the use of working up a controversy in discussion of an undertaking that will not be accomplished till long after we are all in our graves, and perhaps our children after us? While this work is not to be forgotten, there are other things to be undertaken for the country that would be of present practical use. We certainly should push them, as well as the opening of the Columbia river. Let us say too, that the opening of the river includes the improvement of the entrance from the sea, and this is a preliminary condition to the usefulness of the improvements throughout the river's upper course. The assertion that THE OREGONIAN does not favor the opening of the Columbia river is absurd. It will be a most important thing for Oregon and Washington when this river shall be opened to continuous navigation from the line of British Columbia to the sea. As to material results, there is not a newspaper in the country that would get as large benefits out of it as THE OREGONIAN would obtain. This paper wants increase of business, increase of people, increase of production, throughout the Northwest. What paper wants it more, labors harder for it, or would be more benefited by it?

In regard to the locks at the Cascades THE OREGONIAN'S position is this, namely, that in itself this work will be of limited value but as the introductory part of a great system of improvement for the Columbia river it should be pushed ahead as rapidly as it can be, not however, being allowed to absorb all or nearly all the appropriations that Oregon can expect for river and harbor improvement. Could we get money enough to finish the whole work on the river from the ocean to the boundary line, in the space of five years or less, we should hail the fact with the greatest possible satisfaction. But we haven't the political power to get very much, nor shall we have, and therefore it is useless for us to deceive ourselves with the idea that this great work can be completed in time to affect or modify the situation in which our people of the present day find themselves. A franchise for fifty years is pretty much the same thing as a property in fee—a benefit to accrue fifty years hence or more, is not to be undervalued, since our posterity will obtain it. Nevertheless, it is not a thing to absorb our whole attention because we must as men of to-day take into account the circumstances and needs of to-day. How are we to move our products and push the practical development of the country during the fifty years or more that must elapse while the country is awaiting the opening of the Columbia river. We think it best, while working for the future of the country, to try to do something for to-day. Could we bring to bear in congress for the improvement of the Columbia river, the political power that is brought to bear for improvement of the Mississippi, we would have a better prospect of a result. No less than fifteen great states, containing almost one-half the population of the Union, and wielding nearly one half the entire political power of the country are pushing for the improvement of the Mississippi and yet with all this power they are balked and delayed from year to year. It is not sound policy for us to look at a matter of this kind through the medium of our wishes, discarding that of practical judgment, and forgetting the things of to-day in fine-spun theories concerning things a long way off. Nearly ten years ago, shortly after the work at the Cascades began, THE OREGONIAN foretold the slow progress that would be made in opening the Columbia river, and suggested to the country the advisability of not depending on it for solution of the problems of to-day. Certainly the rate of progress made during these ten years does not convince it that it was mistaken.

INJURIES TO EMPLOYES

Cases involving the liability of employers for injury to employes are becoming more and more frequent in our courts, and they usually take the form of an inquiry whether the employer is or is not justly responsible for the injury that one employe may receive through the negligence or misconduct of a fellow-employe. The old rule was that the employer in such cases could not be held responsible. But of late years there has been a growing disposition on the part of the courts to modify [illegible] employments has become so great as [illegible] essentially the [illegible] relation [illegible] another branch [illegible] in a business were few [illegible] and equal in rank, but it [illegible] of himself under the old conditions, but now there is much less opportunity [illegible]. The man who is skilled in one particular branch of employment, and holds the position of overseer, has a great advantage over his fellow [illegible] his direction particularly if the latter is unskilled in it, and when [illegible] carrying out the commands of the former, the employer or master is usually held to responsibility. The law of fellow employe, as now generally held by the courts, was laid down by the supreme court of Illinois in a recent case in the following clear statement:

[illegible]

Commenting [illegible] remarks: As [illegible] from the ancient precedents appears [illegible] equity and in the change [illegible] between employers and employes growing out of the vast numbers and diversified ranks of employes in the employment of the great corporations. A change in the decisions was necessary and in the principle thus laid down [illegible] of the old law is preserved, while the change adapts it to modern methods and usages.

The steamer Etruria has beaten the [illegible] best time across the Atlantic by [illegible] minutes, making the run in [illegible] minutes or an average of [illegible] the entire voyage.

The census of Minnesota, complete, make the population of the state 1,118,[illegible]. The gain since 1880 has been 337,713, nearly one-half of which is credited to the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

SENSIBLE TEMPERANCE VIEWS.

There is a principle of common sense that will assert and maintain itself in the treatment of the liquor question, as in the treatment of all other questions. It is impossible to maintain the absurd position that to sell or drink a glass of beer or wine is to do an act that may be classed with those acts which are crimes in themselves, as theft or arson, or that any law can really make it so. Men have too just a sense of the proportions of things to accept such nonsense. Nor do prohibitionists of the rabid kind make a moral distinction between even the most moderate use of alcoholic liquors and the [illegible] extreme abuse of them. This too is folly. It moves the Christian Union, a noted religious journal of New York to warn the prohibitionists that they cannot advance their cause "by putting in the same condemnation the man who drinks a glass of beer or wine for his dinner, as his father did before him, and the man who befuddles his brain by swilling beer by the barrel, or fires it by drinking whisky by the bottle." In fact, an immense majority of the American people regard a moderate use of liquors as proper enough, and he knows very little about the public mind who imagines that an opposite view is going to prevail. Against the expenditure of so much effort on the hopeless scheme of prohibition by constitutional enactment, or by general statute, the Christian Union makes these strong points:

The South is wiser in this matter than the North. Georgia has made more progress toward prohibition by local option than Kansas and Iowa by legislation. We think it would be easy to go on and show that a criminal law cannot be enforced by a free government except in communities where it is sustained by the moral sense of eight tenths of the community, that is by something very much more than a mere narrow political majority. But we do not propose to do so. [illegible] shall not enter into a controversy with any wing of the temperance army, however unwise and impracticable we regard their methods. We shall fight intemperance in [illegible] way the prohibitionists may fight it in theirs, and time shall show which of us is right.

What then does the paper which we are quoting from suggest? These:

(1) Obedience to the law of the land whatever that law is. (2) A higher tax or a higher license discriminating against distilled liquors and in so far in favor of malt and fermented liquors. (3) The strict and impartial enforcement of the present prohibitory clauses in our liquor laws against selling Sundays to minors and the like. (4) Local option—that is the recognition of the right of each local community, town or county, to prohibit the liquor traffic within its bounds altogether.

Upon these suggestions we quote the Chicago Tribune: "The platform is not only practicable, and one that can be adopted in any community, but to any person who can read with unprejudiced eyes it will commend itself as being conducive to temperance and as containing the rudiments of the education that is likely to create a sentiment in favor of temperance. Such a programme, faithfully carried out, would do more for the cause of temperance in a single year in any community than centuries of the most stringent prohibition laws, provided the sentiment of that community were opposed to them."

HOPS

Several newspapers in this state are arguing that the low prices for hops are due to the practice of adulterating beer in a way to do away, to a great extent, with the necessity for hops. It is possible that there is a grain of truth in this theory, but not more than that. Hops are in over-supply, because production, stimulated by the high prices of three or four years ago, has outgrown the demand. It is estimated that when the crop of the present year has been harvested that there will be hops enough to supply all consumptive demands for three years to come. Consumption grows with each year, but production for two or three years past has grown faster. What will be the result? Five hop growers out of six will quit the business in disgust and devote their land to other crops, and then, as a natural consequence, in four or five years more, there will be another boom in prices, to be followed again by over production. This has been the history of the hop market, and it will no doubt continue to repeat itself.

Rev. Dr. Leonard, prohibition candidate for the governorship of Ohio, has been "put into a hole." It is asserted that he was wont to indulge a fondness for ale—perhaps was doing so yet. This he denied, and then an elder of his church made oath to the charge, which brought out a confession from the good doctor that he had been taking dry toast and ale as a remedy for dyspepsia. It was very proper for him to take the ale in reasonable quantities if he wanted it, with or without the dry toast, but as he is standing on a platform which denounces the use of ale as a mortal sin, the affair has been giving him and his friends no end of trouble. Nothing could better illustrate the silliness of the "campaign" in which Dr. Leonard is engaged. Meanwhile it is observed that Governor Hoadly is a candidate for re-election, and no one has been so rash as to accuse him of taking toast with his beer, it being understood that pretzels, limburger and bologna are the orthodox articles that go with that beverage.

The value of steady, persistent effort in accomplishing great objects has never been set forth in a more judicious manner than by Mr. John Ruskin in a letter to a young college friend, recently published. He says: "I want you to feel that long and steady effort made in a [illegible] way does more than violent effort made [illegible] in some strong motive or under some enthusiastic impulse. And I repeat—for this I am perfectly sure—that the best things are only to be done in this way. It is very difficult thoroughly to understand the difference between indolence and reserve of strength, between apathy and serenity, between palsy and intense—but there is all the difference in the world, and nearly as many men are ruined by inconsiderate exertion as by idleness itself. To do as much as you can healthily and happily do each day in a well determined direction, with a view to far off results, and with present enjoyment of one's work, is the only proper, the only essentially profitable way."

Reports from the Pine Creek mines in Union county are numerous but they are so different and conflicting that it is not possible to determine from them the actual promise of the new field. In order that it may furnish the public with a full, disinterested and reliable account of all the facts, THE OREGONIAN has sent a [illegible] to [illegible] the mines and report upon them. He will also visit the several counties and towns in Eastern Oregon with a view to advertising the country through a series of letters.

Whenever a democratic convention speaks out, it says that the civil service reform it wants is the offices. Democrats of Montgomery county, Ia., in their county convention the other day unanimously adopted a resolution asking congress to repeal the civil service law, and demanding of President Cleveland that all the offices be given to the democrats without delay. This is the general sentiment of the party and who can wonder at it?

There is a most unseemly squabble in the New York custom house over the civil service rules. The collector and surveyor are overriding the [illegible]es, against the protest of the local civil service commission. This moves the New York Herald, mugwump, to say: "If there is a strong hand anywhere that can detect and enforce what is right, now is a good time for it to appear."

The Grant's Pass Courier thinks it little use for the partisans in the town site controversy to work themselves into a fever heat and to bandy hard names, while the principals are quietly and happily "sipping champagne together in the Arlington club rooms at Portland." This is [illegible] the first time the Courier has shown that it has sense.

The Australian colonies have commissioned Richard C. Baker to go to London to consult with the home government relative to the transportation of mails to and from these colonies. He is now in this country on his way, and he says the Canadian Pacific has sent an agent to South Australia, who has proposed to transport mails by weekly service, via Vancouver Island, making the passage to London in thirty days. For the service the Canadian Pacific company asks £100,000 per annum. The contracts with colonies other than New Zealand will expire in September, 1887. The Canadian Pacific road is expected to be running through trains before that date.

PERSONS OF NOTE

Ida Lewis, the Newport harbor heroine, has had, for a dozen years, a faithful companion on her little rocky island, a big black Newfoundland dog, which recently died, causing her great grief. "I remember well, long ago," says one of her acquaintances, "her putting her arms around the big affectionate fellow and saying: 'Men have not been good to me, and I love dogs better.' Her matrimonial venture was most disastrous, and this dog was her only protector."

Mrs. Grant has decided to remain a guest of Joseph W. Drexel, at Mt. McGregor until October 1. What she shall do after that has not been determined upon, further than that she will rent or dispose of the house in Sixty-sixth street, New York, and take a smaller dwelling. The house is in her name and is worth, as estimated, about $30,000 above the mortgage upon it. The Grant cottage at Long Branch belongs to her entirely, and she owns a house in Washington.

Gen. Fremont has wearied of the remark attributed to Grant, that Grant voted for president but once and then for Buchanan, because he knew Fremont. Fremont now says: "Such a remark would have been unworthy of Gen. Grant, and I am not willing to believe that he made it. I had never seen Gen. Grant until he called upon me in 1861 in St. Louis to ask for a command. All the knowledge that he could have had of me was the public knowledge upon which I had been nominated to be a candidate for the presidency. The vote of confidence given me on that occasion I have been always happy to regard as the expression of public opinion upon that record. If he did say it, all that I now have to say in reply is that when I assigned him to the most important command in my power to give I had a better appreciation of character than he had."

Some of the newspapers suggest that Vice President Hendricks should muzzle his private secretary, who goes about Washington saying that if he had his way "every republican should go instanter, and every salary paid from the treasury, from scrub-women up to president, should be handed over to an unadulterated democrat." Gen. Boynton, of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, comments on this: "Whether this latter phrase is directed at the president's salary, as the entire declaration is aimed at the president's policy, Mr. Hendricks's secretary does not say, but he is bold and earnest in his speech, and in no degree does it approve the president's course. Until the vice president supplies himself with a confidential secretary of quieter stripe, it will be fair to assume that he is seeking to head a faction in the party, and become the leader of those old timers whose views upon the question of spoils are not tainted with new fangled notions, as those of Mr. Cleveland evidently are."

Rum, Rheumatism and Rebellion.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—While attempting to arrest a rebellious drunken man recently a policeman was pushed into the canal and was only rescued after receiving a severe ducking. Acute rheumatism set in, which entirely incapacitated the officer. After vainly trying various doctors and remedies three applications of St. Jacobs Oil cured him.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

Getting Ready for this Year's Exhibition Flower Display—One Night's Receipts to go to "The Home"

On Saturday evening the board of directors of the Mechanics' Fair Association held a meeting at the office of the president, J B Congle It was decided that gold, silver and bronze medals and diplomas be given to exhibitors as award for meritorious and best display at the coming fair

The superintendent was authorized to secure propositions from several parties on displays of flowers, and report to the committee on decorations, and that the committee shall have full power in reference to floral decorations

It was voted the board of directors donate the proceeds of the fair of the first Saturday evening (it being the 10th day of October) to the Children's Home of Portland, and that no admission on that evening shall be allowed on complimentary and commutation tickets, so that the full receipts of the evening may go to the benefit of "The Home"

The president was authorized to advertise for bids to furnish the association with gold silver and bronze medals, and that a contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, the board reserving the right to reject any and all bids Adjourned to meet Saturday next at 7 1/2 P M

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FRUIT RATES INTO IDAHO.—In yesterday's OREGONIAN there appeared an extract from the Wood River News-Miner, complaining that the reshipped rate of $2 a hundred from Portland into Idaho, did not apply to fruit. This, remarks the News-Miner, works a hardship on the people of that locality because the fruit crop of Boise valley, which has hitherto been their source of supply, was a failure this year There is now no cause of complaint. The O R. & N. and Oregon Short Line put into effect last week a $2 rate on fruit to all Wood River points, and it now exists open to everybody In this part of Oregon we have an immense surplus of the finest fruit that ever grew and our farmers and commission men are selling it cheap. Send in your orders and don't forget to ask for peaches For years and years, we, in Portland, have heard of the famous Boise peaches, and people who had visited that valley said "Wait till a railroad gets through and then you will have peaches that will astonish you If your peaches are any better than ours, they are not food for angels

TRYING TO CUT THEIR PRISON BARS —Late last evening Captain Hall, of the police force, noticed some suspicious actions of the prisoners in the city jail especially a gang of vagrants, serving out sentence, collected about one of the windows. He listened outside the jail and heard a harsh, grating sound Going back inside he hastily threw open the door of the big cell and went inside The gang of vagrants, twelve in number, were at the window, and the captain immediately ordered them into another cell and locked them in. Then he examined the window and found that one of the bars had been sawed partly through Search of the suspected men failed to find the implement used, but a search of the big cell revealed it where it had been thrown under one of the bunks It was a case-knife, the edges of which had been made roughly serrate. It was a rude saw, but evidently capable of doing the work for which it was intended

FLOORED WITH A BILLIARD CUE.—John Chaw, a negro barber, whose diminutive stature is quite well known in this city, was arrested last night upon complaint of a fellow named Morris Taylor charged with an assault with a dangerous weapon Both men were in the saloon on the corner of Second and Stark streets, and according to the negro's statement, a wordy altercation ended in Taylor raising his foot and kicking the colored man and brother in the nose Whereupon the diminutive barber seized a billiard cue to make the handicap in their physiques less apparent, and knocked his antagonist down upon the floor, "all of a heap" Truly, a billiard cue is a dangerous weapon in the hands of a man who has been kicked in the nose

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION —G A Steel, chairman of the Board of Civil Service Examiners, has secured a room in the Park street school building for the examination of applicants for departmental service at Washington, D C The examination will be held on the 19th of September, commencing at 10 o'clock A M As there will not be time to make application at Washington and receive written notice of the examination before the board convenes in this city, the commissioners have sent blank applications, etc, to Mr Steel to be given to persons desiring such positions The blanks can be properly executed and given to Commissioner Thoman, who will be present and superintend the examination

C Smith, Jas G Woodworth, John Melville, Portland S D Adair, Miss Adair, Astoria A Koch, Haywards Lieut Colton, U S. A Those who returned from there by the steamer R R. Thompson this morning are Jas Laidlaw and family, E J De Har and family, Mrs Maxwell and family, Miss May Failing, Miss C Ladd, the Misses Montgomery F R Adams, Miss Helen Savier, Miss Florence Savier, Frank F Mitchell

OUGHT TO STAND WHAT HE CREATES.—John Robertson, who was somewhat intoxicated, was arrested last night and locked up for using abusive language to a saloon keeper who keeps a place near the corner of Fifteenth and S streets It is a pity that a man who gives another the wherewithal to loosen his tongue and make it say vulgar and obscene words should not be compelled to stand and take all the torrents of abuse that can be heaped upon him from such sources, and not be permitted to use the officers of the law to hale away his customer after he becomes obnoxious

TURN VEREIN FESTIVAL—The celebration of the fourteenth anniversary of the Portland Social Turn Verein was held yesterday at Gambrinus Gardens The programme consisted of a picnic and a summer night festival with a fine display of fireworks under the direction of Mr Geo Hughes There was singing and instrumental music, with gymnastic exercises of the Turnverein interspersed with dancing, forming a most enjoyable afternoon's entertainment In the evening the dances were kept up until a late hour, with fireworks alternating

THE CORNELIUS INVESTIGATION —The council committee on judiciary to whom was referred the case of Police Captain Cornelius who has been suspended from the force, pending the investigation of charges made against him by the chief, of incompetency, held a meeting Saturday evening The accused asked that the specification of the charges against him might be made in writing This was allowed, and Chief Parrish stated that he would have the specifications so prepared by 8 o'clock this evening to which time the committee then adjourned

ALASKA STEAMER TO BE HELD BACK —Owing to the delay of the arrival of the Ancon from Alaska, the Idaho, which was expected to leave for the north to-morrow, will not sail until the incoming mail from the Ancon is received here This will give Alaska shippers an opportunity to receive orders by the Ancon and fill them by the outgoing Idaho, whose date of departure will be definitely fixed and advertised later

BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR SCHOOL —The Christmas term of the Bishop Scott Grammar School will begin to-morrow morning at 8 45 Dr Hill desires all the scholars to come as near the first day of the term as possible, that there be no delay in forming classes The teachers this year are Dr Bolander, Mr W B Coley and Mr J F Hedges, with the addition of Mr C I Grant, a graduate of Yale and a teacher of several years' experience

SAVED THE MIRROR —John Carlson had a narrow escape from suffocation at the fire yesterday morning He entered the wareroom to get a valuable mirror which he knew was there and while he was inside the door was shut by a [illegible] the [illegible] to prevent a draught [illegible] little trouble to regain the [illegible] and was well nigh unconscious when he reached open air But he saved the mirror

OTHER SPORTS.—Besides the $5,000 trot at City View park to-day, there will be another contest of some interest. Lute Lindsay has matched Mount Vernon to trot to a cart against Jay Beard's Maggie Arnold in harness. Dick Patton of Salem will run Ben Hirsch of this city a 100 yard foot race, for $200 a side, Patton giving Hirsch 10 feet start.

CLATSOP NOTES

SEASIDE HOUSE, Aug 29

This is by far the most enjoyable part of the season here The weather is delightful neither too warm nor too cold, just regular Indian summer weather The water is in fine condition for bathing, and nearly every person at the beach goes in daily It is great sport to toy with the breakers and turn flip-flops among them, and I enjoy seeing the rest do so from my seat on the warm dry sand very much

The house is not crowded, and the guests have a better chance to enjoy themselves There is a concert, dance, or circus in the parlor every evening and the style of laughter in vogue shows that the air here is good for the lungs. Guests continue to arrive by every boat, and the house will be kept open for several weeks longer

There are many ways of passing the day pleasantly here Some go boating up the still reaches of the Nekanikum, others go fishing down at its mouth, some get up picnic parties and others stroll off to Lovers Retreat and other romantic spots. I prefer to loaf along the shore to bask in what old Homer styles "the innumerable smiles of the many-voiced sea" and listen to what the wild waves are saying In the early morning it is pleasant to follow the toiler of the shore who goes down to spade up his clam patch and to rake and cultivate his crab-pools and to see him gather in his crop of bivalves and crustaceans

Yesterday I walked down the beach with Judge Smith, in the interest of science, to where two huge sea lions had come ashore An examination of their skeletons shows that the bones I brought from Yaquina, and which now ornament the reporter's room of THE OREGONIAN office, are from the arms of the sea lion. A short distance below Judge Smith shot a seal and while we were waiting for him to come ashore we saw a huge sea lion which had been up toward the mouth of the Columbia to dinner, on his way home to seal rocks some miles down the beach. He was going as fast as a tug boat, coming high out of the water occasionally to get his bearings and his breath. He seemed in a hurry and we did not try to stop him.

This morning while the church bells in town were chiming sweetly, or otherwise, according to the temper of the listener, I strolled down the beach and found a grizzly old man, who looked like Neptune, come ashore and go into the clam business. He had a pair of horses and a farm wagon, and two nymphs, who raced along in the edge of the incoming tide and yanked clams from their lairs with a celerity which made the average Caucasian clam digger sick with envy The trio had some eight bushels of clams, but all old Nep had done was to lean on his wagon and smoke, while the two stout waisted nymphs did the work He said the clams were for Alec Megler, of the Occident hotel, Astoria.

Those who leave here this afternoon [illegible] so under protest. The weather is so delightful that no one cares to go back to the heat and smoke Salmon are beginning to run in the Nekanikan, and in a few days will furnish fine sport at trolling

Judge Stott came down yesterday, and is with his family at Judgeville Judge Smith is there, but Judge Bellinger is absent I judge that the judges will all leave for home on Wednesday.

If any one is sighing and pining for the shore let not the lateness of the season deter him from coming down, for now begin the halcyon days at the seaside, and Ohle stands ready to receive them with open house and abundant hospitality

WINTERS WINS

Interesting Running Race at City View Park A Very Scrubby Trot—Salemites Go Broke on a Foot Race.

About 800 people witnessed the $1,000 match race, three-quarters of a mile and repeat, at City View park yesterday, between Jim Lick and Winters Pool selling before the first heat was very lively Lick was a hot favorite bringing $20 to $10 on Winters All the knowing ones seemed to remember Winters' record in former years and appeared entirely to disregard the fact that he had developed excellent staying qualities and good speed this season Talk that he would be shut out in the first heat was heard in whispers among groups outside of the crowd around the pool box

At 3 o'clock the horses were called up James Bybee, W. W Baker and W Ayres were the judges and R E Bybee the starter Winters appeared to be in prime condition while Lick looked a little too high in flesh for the distance to be run Sam Cooper rode Lick and Tom McCaff bestrode the son of Joe Hooker Lick drew the pole

First heat.—There was a good deal more jockeying than necessary at the start and Winters appeared somewhat sulky After six futile attempts, the nags went off to a fair start, Lick having a few feet advantage. Side by side they passed the half mile pole, Lick under a strong pull When near the three-quarter pole, Lick threw up his head and seemed to quit for a second, Winters forging half a length ahead Entering the home stretch, Lick was strongly urged but failed to respond, and Winters won, Lick's nose on his saddle Time 1 20 Lick's rider claimed a foul, which after thorough examination was not allowed

Second heat.—When the horses were saddled up a second time it was evident that Lick was in no condition to win Pools sold 10 to 3 in Winters' favor. After four attempts the horses got off in fine style Winters took the lead and won hands down in 1 19

A POOR TROT

Following the running race came a trot, best two in three, between Fowler, W S Ladd, Wm Glassford and Emma Boone. Fowler was favorite in the pools In the first heat the horses came under the wire in the following order Emma Boone, Fowler, Ladd and Glassford time, 2 51 but Ladd was the only horse that trotted, all the rest running Boone and Fowler were set back and the heat awarded to Ladd. The second heat was a repetition of the first, except that Ladd came under the wire second and Fowler third time, 2 50 Boone was again set back and the heat and race given to Ladd

EXCITING FOOT RACE.

Between the heats of the trot, a 100-yard foot race for $100 a side was run between Ben Hirsch of this city and Dick Patton of Salem A week ago Patton beat Hirsch about six feet in a race of the same distance, and yesterday gave Hirsch ten feet the start. Quite a number of Salemites were present and backed Patton heavily, giving odds of two to one Most of the bets offered were accepted Hirsch got decidedly the best of the start, having taken two steps before Patton raised his feet after the word had been given The Portland boy won easily by six or seven feet. Then the Salem crowd got "hot." They went around among their friends and raised $100, and wanted an the race run on the spot but they will have to wait until to-day

THE GREAT MATCH TO DAY

Speculation as to the Result—Jane L still Favorite in the Pools

The $5,000 match race between Jane L and Siphon will be called promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon at City View park The steamer Multnomah will leave the foot of Morrison street at noon, 1 and 2 P M for the park Those who wish to see the whole race should take the 1 o'clock boat. However the 2 o'clock trip will be in time to see everything except the first heat At the park yesterday there was more talk about the coming contest than about the races then in progress Many improved the opportunity to take a look at the horses selected to represent the family of the Hambletonian Mambrino and of Altamont. Jane L is in fine form Siphon looks rather poor in flesh, but whether this is his normal condition or not, no one who knew would tell In fact, the turfmen here abouts knew very little of him He has been kept down near Yreka for several years, and it is stated that Beach and Hallett had to buy him in order to get him for the race The day he was taken from the pasture, a few weeks ago, he trotted a mile in [illegible] and the next in 2[illegible] It is stated that he has trotted under [illegible] Since he was brought here A turfman said last night to an OREGONIAN reporter that F H Hinkley has been told by a friend from Yreka that he will have to [illegible] if he wins the race A man who pretends to know states that Jane L. has trotted in 2 [illegible] within a week. At the Crystal Palace pool room last night Jane L, brought 100 to 60 on Siphon Lindsay will probably drive Jane L., and Mr Sutherland, of Yreka, will hold the ribbon over Altamont's son.

As soon as the match trot is over the Multnomah will leave the park with a big barge

THE SKIDMORE MEMORIAL

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

As an officer of the humane society, and deeply interested in the gift of Mr Skidmore, may I suggest as follows That the main memorial stand in the street between the plaza blocks said street to be formally vacated by the city It is to be remembered that Main street was opened through this plaza under circumstances which make it quite questionable legally whether it is a street or that place and morally it never should have been so taken. If say $4000, could be spent on a fountain, etc., there, $1000 could be divided so as to place four handsome and ornamental drinking fountains, for persons and stock, at corners where the chief travel of the city occurs—as at Stark street ferry, First and A street and elsewhere

THE STAGE.

"PAINTIN' THE TOWN RED"—Alma Stuart Stanley and company commence their season at the New Market theater to-night in the farcical comedy of "Paintin' the Town Red" The company played in Vancouver on Saturday night to a large house, the play and company making a great hit. Miss Stanley's Japanese speciality and male impersonations are spoken of as features that are sure of creating a sensation The comedy abounds in lively music. The advance sale is large and a grand commencement is assured.

The "Electric Wire" is very highly recommended for aches and pains by those who have used them They are cheap and effective

Folding and reading chairs, folding canvas and slat cots. Camp stools at lowest rates.

A POOR GAME.

The Portlands Again Defeat the Stars by a Score of 17 to 16—Bad Playing all Around.

About five or six hundred people assembled at The Oaks yesterday afternoon to witness the game of baseball between the Portlands and the Stars. A better result might have been looked for in a practice game. As a result of the practice, however, toward the last the Stars began to play much better and the Portlands worse.

The Stars were first to the bat, and by three errors and a two-base hit of Geis scored four runs They were then retired in one, two, three order For the Portlands Coulter made a base hit, but was thrown out at second by Drennan and Buchtel failed to reach first Connolly made a base hit but got no farther, Brandt falling by a fly to the pitcher

Second inning —Parrott went out on a fly to pitcher, Campbell a base hit, Thompson out on a fly to Buchtel, and Drummond was thrown out at first by Buchtel. Geis, who dislocated his thumb in the first inning, now took the field and Campbell came in to catch Drennan was thrown out at first by Thompson, Brown made a base hit over the short stop, McGuire knocked a fly to Parrott which was muffed, and Glendenning made a base hit to the left field In an attempt to throw McGuire out at second Brown scored Hettish made a sacrifice hit, bringing in McGuire Coulter bunted the ball just in front of the base and reached first while Glendenning scored Buchtel batted a ball to the pitcher who tried to throw Coulter out at second, but threw wild and so high that before the ball could be fielded, both Coulter and Buchtel scored This made everybody laugh, and sort of reconciled them to that style of playing Connolly took first by an error of the baseman and Brandt followed him in the same way Drennan then went out on a splendid foul catch by Bird, the Portlands having a total of five runs in the inning

Third Inning.—The Stars scored one by two wild throws and were then retired The Portlands also scored one on an error, after which McGuire went out on a fly to the third baseman Hettish was thrown out at first and Coulter struck out. This looked a little more as though there might be a good game yet, and the crowd did considerable cheering

Fourth Inning Parrott made a base hit and scored while Campbell and Thompson were being put out, Drummond then being thrown out at first Of the Portlands, Buchtel and Connolly were thrown out at first, Brandt made a base hit but was left at second, Drennan being thrown out. The score was now even and considerable interest in the result was evinced

Fifth inning—The Stars scored one by an error and the Portlands made three—one earned, and two by errors

Sixth inning—Everybody seemed to try and make errors. The Stars getting two runs and the Portlands only one In this inning Stimpson went in to pitch for the Stars the rest of the game

Seventh inning A goose-egg for the Stars, Brown and Buchtel playing like clockwork Coulter came to the bat for the Portlands, made a base hit, stole second, got to third on an error of Thompson, and came home on a sacrifice hit by Buchtel Connolly was thrown out at First, Brandt and Drennan got bases, but were left by Brown failing.

Eighth inning —Campbell went out by a fine throw of Buchtel to first, Thompson got to third by a wild throw of that baseman over first and went home on a wild pitch of Glendenning, Drummond went out at first, Geis reached the first by a muff of that baseman but died at second, Young batting the ball directly into Coulter's hands McGuire came to the bat for the Portlands and made a two base hit. Glendenning reached first while McGuire was being put out at third Hettish made a base hit, as did Coulter, who followed him An error of the right fielder let in Glendenning and Hettish Buchtel went out at first while Coulter scored Connolly, Brandt and Drennan each followed with base hits and all three came home on errors Brown went to second, where he was left by McGuire dropping a fly to shortstop—six runs and three of them earned.

Ninth inning—Everybody was starting for home when Simonton led off with a splendid two bagger Bird was thrown out at first. Stimpson made a base hit bringing Simonton home and coming home himself by the errors of the right fielder and third baseman Parrott made a base hit, went to third on an error of the second baseman and came home on a passed ball. Glendenning got excited and Campbell took his base on balls, Thompson followed with a basehit, and Drummond with another, Campbell scoring Drennan [illegible] his fingers hurt and Brandt came in to catch the remainder of the inning Geis then went out on three strikes, but Young made a base hit, bringing in Thompson and Drummond Simonton was then thrown out at first by the second baseman This ended the game, the Stars lacking one of a tie Following is

A LITTLE MIXED

Regarding the duties and power of the chief engineer of East Portland, the following records are interesting

Section 1, article 2, of the "Laws of the Board of Delegates," says that "the chief engineer shall in all cases of fire, or alarm thereof, have sole and entire command over all apparatus and members of the department."

Section 2 of "an ordinance defining the duties of engineers of fire engines," says that the engineer shall have the management of the engine, subject only to the orders of the foreman of the company, subject to the laws and regulations of the fire department "

Section 2 of "an ordinance to provide for the protection of hydrants" says It shall be unlawful for any person to tamper with, or use or cause to be opened any fire hydrant in the city without first having obtained permission from the chief engineer of the fire department or any foreman of any of the fire companies in their respective wards,"

Section 1 of "an ordinance defining the duties of the chief engineer" says that the duties of that officer "are such as prescribed by the charter and bill to regulate the fire department of the city of East Portland "

Concerning the last mentioned provision it is significant that the charter is entirely silent regarding the chief engineer and his duties, and the department act enjoins no duties on the chief engineer of the character designated in the law and ordinance referred to above

There appears to be a conflict of jurisdiction between the city council and the board of delegates regarding the government of the fire department, resulting from the powers granted to the different bodies While the city council "has power and authority to provide for the prevention and extinguishment of fires, and for the preservation of property endangered thereby," the department act says "the board of delegates shall make laws for the government of the fire department." Until the powers of the different bodies in this matter are accurately defined and thoroughly understood, the laws concerning the fire department are liable to continue "a little mixed "

RUNAWAY COUPLE.

Saturday morning's train brought down a young couple from Albany bent on matrimony, and were conveyed by carriage to Vancouver, where the object of their journey was accomplished Yesterday they spent in East Portland and in visiting friends at Mt. Tabor The groom is Frank Pfeiffer, aged 17 years, a son of Charles Pfeiffer, until recently proprietor of the Revere house at Albany, and the bride a daughter of John Isom, one of the proprietors of the Red Crown flouring mills, and is three years her husband's senior It is said their action was induced by the objections of the groom's parents

BREAK DOWN

Saturday afternoon while a Mr and Mrs Johnson, of Portland, were driving home from Vancouver, one of the hind wheels of their buggy collapsed when about six miles from town. They completed their journey on foot, and engaged Frank Logan to go out and bring in the wrecked vehicle.

NOTES.

A room 34x45 feet has been leased in Gruner's hall building, Stephens' addition, for public school purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, after three years' residence on the sound, have returned to East Portland and located in McMillen's addition.

Mrs. A. E. Frush, Mrs. Maggie Frush, Mrs. Hersha, Dr. Harry Lane and wife returned from the East Portland camp at Long Beach Saturday night.

Pioneer's engine this evening will take suction at the fire cistern at Second and J streets, in order to test the capacity of the springs to supply the cistern while in use.

Mrs. John Powell returned Saturday from Junction City, where for four weeks she has been in attendance upon her father, Mr Milton, who has been prostrate with sickness, but is now mending rapidly.

Miss Bertha Breyman, daughter of A. H Breyman, was tendered a surprise reception on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday on Saturday last. The evening was spent happily with music, dancing and refreshments at the hall of Relief hook and ladder company

NAVIGATING THE CASCADES

Mr McCormick Describes his New Invention and his Method of Using the Current to Furnish Power.

CASCADE LOCKS, Aug 2[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Please allow me to describe my scheme for towing boats through the Cascade rapids, in your valuable paper

The plan is to build a boat especially adapted to run in swift water, without a keel, her bow globular in form at the water line and having a long rake forward, while her stern runs out in two points forming a V-shaped cavity, which I call a tow basin, long and wide enough to admit one third of the length of the average sized boats on the river Now, as the velocity of the current is greater than the onward speed of the tug, there will be an eddy created in the tow basin, which will protect the bow of the steamer tow from the force of the current, so that she will lie parallel to the surface of the water, the same as on the level, and use her own power, which will be more than sufficient to keep her in the eddy of the tow basin thus making her less than nothing to take up, so far as the tug is concerned It is the intention not to allow barges to draw more than the tug (three feet) in going up stream, but they can come down full loaded

The tug will travel forward and back, using the power to go up stream bow first and drifting back with the current stern first, along a chain that will be made out of three inch iron and guaranteed to stand 460 tons, which will lie on the bottom of the channel after having first been passed from bow to stern through the center, over a chain wheel which is caused to travel underneath it by being thrown into gear with the paddle-wheels when required to go ahead, or is allowed to roll free on its shaft to go backwards, in which case its speed is regulated by a brake, which is also strong enough to bring it to a standstill and thereby stop the boat whenever necessary

The power is obtained from the action of the current on the paddle wheels, which are made to drag as much water and present as much surface to the current as the bow of the boat, the pressure on which is borne by the chain-wheel, while they have three and one-half times as much leverage as it (the chain-wheel has Therefore we have two quantities of equal weight, but one has three and one-half times as as much leverage as the other, which difference has necessarily to be resolved into motion which cannot be stopped until the quantity with the short lever has its weight increased three and one-half times, and it will take a mighty big barge to do it

I will be pleased to set my model to work for anyone who may be interested in the success of the scheme, any time during the coming week

FURNITURE FACTORY BURNED.

Ira F. Powers' Establishment Destroyed by Fire Sunday Morning.

[Condensed from Sunday Oregonian]

About 2.45 Sunday morning fire was discovered in the furniture factory of Ira F. Powers, situated on Water street between Montgomery and Harrison The building was a two-story frame, and the long continued season without rain had rendered it dry as tinder. Within two minutes after the fire was discovered the entire building was in flames The fire communicated to the adjacent stable where four valuable horses were burned to death. It next caught the packing and finishing room and this also went. A large open dock belonging to the Narrow Gauge railroad next caught and about half the structure was destroyed. A row of six cottages above the factory was saved. About 200,000 feet of ash and maple lumber was burned Mr Powers estimates his loss at $45 000 insured $18,000 through Sibson, Church & Co 's and Eugene D White's agencies Loss to the railroad company is about $5000 no insurance. The fire was, no doubt, of incendiary origin Twenty-five men are thrown out of employment.

RECEPTION TO THE MILITIA

Great Social Event at the Territorial Capital Notes from Olympia

OLYMPIA, Aug 29

On Thursday the militia, after a week's drill, broke camp and returned, via Olympia, to their respective homes, probably very glad to return once more to the quiet life of an American citizen At 6 P M the last dress parade of the season was held on the public square, and was witnessed by large assemblage of citizens, who manifested their satisfaction at the various movements of the troops by frequent bursts of applause. The Washington cadets, as usual, came in for their share of the general approbation During the parade the final order of the adjutant general was read, thanking the militia for the admirable manner in which they had conducted themselves during the time they had been in camp, and inviting all the members to the governor's reception at Columbia hall later in the evening.

THE RECEPTION

The hall was handsomely decorated with bunting, and the brilliant light shed by the Siemens gas lamp had a fine effect on the large assemblage, which met at 8 o'clock to do honor to his excellency and Mrs. Squire in the reception of the troops Professor Vaughan's string band was in attendance, and added much to the pleasure of the occasion, especially when dancing commenced, which, by the way, was kept up with spirit until 2 30 A. M

To give a full description of how all the ladies were dressed, would be a task utterly beyond the power of your correspondent, but, suffice it to say that the greatest taste was displayed in the matter, and some of the dresses were really beautiful The adjutant general, officers, and men being in full uniform also added much to the brilliancy of the scene, giving it the appearance of a regular military ball

At 11 30 P M the guests adjourned to the lower hall, where refreshments were spread for the hungry ones, to which full justice was done

Among those present besides the officers and members of companies A, B, C, D, the Seattle Rifles and the Washington cadets, were His Excellency Governor and Mrs Squire, Adjutant General and Mrs. R G O'Brien, Judge and Mrs. Hoyt, Judge Keady Hon J C and Mrs. Horr Capt. CASUALTIES DURING THE CAMPAIGN

Adj Gen O'Brien was attacked with sciatica while in camp, and on Wednesday while reviewing the troops, became faint from acute pain and had to be carried to his quarters. He was, however, able to attend the reception on Thursday

Master W. Foster cut his hand while acting as commissary, and Elmy Van Epps sprained his ankle while kicking foot ball Both of these gentlemen belongs to the cadets A member of one of the other companies also was hurt with a base ball, and this about completes the list of casualties,

NOTES

This city now boasts of having a fine hotel coach attending all the trains and boats Mr E. T Young the landlord of the New England hotel, is the fortunate possessor

Everybody seems to blame the postmaster for the late hour at which the mail is distributed And yet he is not at all at fault The whole fault lies in the trains, which have not been running recently on standard time

The troops from down the Sound receive great praise for the courtesy and affability displayed by them towards the citizens of this place, and the gentlemanly manner in which they conducted themselves from the time they arrived here. By this line of conduct they succeeded in gaining the good-will of the entire community and made many warm friends for the national guard of the territory. As for the fine drum corps which accompanied the troops from Seattle, their unexcelled performance has unfortunately imbued the youthful Olympian with a sudden passion for drumming which it will take some time to suppress

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, Aug. 29

Weather smoky and thick. The merchandise lines are in good movement, recent arrivals including large quantities of goods to make up fall stocks. The grocery lines are distributing about the usual quantity, values changes not being frequent. Cereals do not move as rapidly as expected probably because of unsettled values in wheat and some confidence in the future for oats and barley. However many holders of the first are letting go feeling that prices [illegible] too much upon the uncertainty of operations at San Francisco. More oats would go out with larger freight room supplied. Barley receipts from the eastern section marked some increase during the calendar week coming mostly from points not covered by eastern shippers. The local quotation is about [illegible] for good brewing. Eastward fruit shipments also show an increase, Butte City taking freely [illegible] car of apples left today for Butte and two cars are being made up for more eastern points. Montana and Dakota shipments do not figure in published statements of exports. Meats rule low at the east and large quantities are marketed here in consequence. Today's press dispatches do not altogether confirm late reports of damage to the New York hop crop. Past has appeared in several places [illegible] reports a loss of 100,000 pounds while another has increased its acreage 10 per cent. From all information now at hand the damage will not materially influence future values. The New York grower is contracting at 10c and the Californian at 9c. With large contracts made there need be little anxiety as to the future.

Overland receipts include 6 cases bacon [illegible] hams [illegible] cases 4 2 bxs starch [illegible] baking powder [illegible] syrup 1 cs maple do 1 bbl baking powder 10 bbls currants 156 pkgs tobacco 3 cars stoves 60 [illegible] 100 hf bbls beer, 22 bxs 242 kgs nails

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Last 24 hours 3304 ctls wheat 4834 ctls oats [illegible] sks potatoes 18 [illegible] hides [illegible] cs eggs 14 bxs fruit, 10 pkgs butter 200 ctls oil meal. Also 10,842 ctls wheat 300 bbls flour 860 ctls oats 805 ctls barley [illegible] 7 in tons from the eastern section

FREIGHTS—Market inactive for both spot and future. Owing to [illegible] marked [illegible] ingress to a [illegible] shippers [illegible] and [illegible] waiting for a decided break. The en route list receives slight additions.

WHEAT—Foreign markets steady with the rather less firm front to-day. San Francisco is [illegible] up by scant offerings but shippers have so far met their light engagements. Our [illegible] have given them material aid and they are inclined to push this trade. Best Walla Walla and valley sell there at $1 [illegible] and $1 40. These figures are above a parity with what has all along been offered here and have prevented any considerable buying by local houses. They are showing more disposition to accept the inevitable and report says a round lot of Walla Walla has sold at an advance on $1 15, it being a choice and well [illegible] parcel. In the present unsettled condition of the market an accurate quotation is hardly possible but San Francisco values less freights and charges are generally talked of. The P [illegible] cargo [illegible] 480 tons is reported by telegraph as sold at $1 40. It was doubtless valley. Late receipts at San Francisco shipments have been [illegible] of the crop

OATS—Oregon shipments have [illegible] fect below but considerable firmness is necessary to maintain values. As they hinge largely upon the barley situation some dealers are losing [illegible] Others have been scouring the country for consignments or purchase for shipment. [illegible] part very freely with a good portion of their product, believing it best to sell. We quote feed [illegible] common, [illegible] and [illegible]

FLOUR—Trade quiet and slow, stocks are enough for all needs and grinding is light. Values apparently steady

FRUITS—Choice apples for shipment sold [illegible] 70c common varieties [illegible] Peaches in less [illegible] dealing as few California are received and the best bring 85c@$1. Pears [illegible] bring [illegible] per pound for shipment. Some varieties of prunes and plums are going east. Grapes will [illegible] Monday at about last prices. Melons in large [illegible] ness at $1 50@2 per dozen, cantaloupes [illegible] per crate. Muskmelons in no favor

PROVISIONS—Values [illegible] but with an undertone that seems improving. There is [illegible] talk of a deal being started east although it is quite safe to say the outside crowd have no [illegible] information if such is actually the case. We quote local [illegible] prices for ordinary parcels [illegible] shoulders [illegible] country cured [illegible] generally [illegible] less eastern hams [illegible] bacon 9@10c. Lard quiet for choice. Quote best eastern tins 10@10½ best local in pails 10@10 [illegible] common 8c

POULTRY—Chickens close weak [illegible] owing to liberal offerings. [illegible] not [illegible] generally realized. Quote young $2 [illegible] A few turkeys sold late in the week [illegible] request

EGGS—Receipts [illegible] cases for shipment. Arrivals have ruled only [illegible] three days and stocks are only fair [illegible] asked and received

WOOL—Holdings here have [illegible] greatly reduced by recent [illegible] most nothing.

The Boston Shipping List of August 21 says: The excitement in wool continues and the aggregate sales of the week were a surprise [illegible] scarcely realized [illegible] business would [illegible] transact [illegible] business with one exception of any week this year. For some six weeks the [illegible] has been at the rate of 4,000,000 pounds per week but it appears to [illegible] that [illegible] be continued for many weeks ahead while at the same time there is no indication of a lull at present. While manufacturers can purchase wool at present current rates and have plenty of storage room they make no mistake by stocking up with all the desirable wool they can find. We believe that prices are at their lowest point now and later in the season it will be hard to duplicate the purchases recently made. The activity for so many successive weeks has no [illegible] in prices as yet. The tone of the market is firm and the tendency points to higher prices but not immediately. There is more or less wool on hand that is not offering except at higher figures than are now current, but notwithstanding the sale of nearly 25,000,000 lbs in some weeks past for washed and unwashed [illegible] has [illegible] varied. Manufacturers are free buyers and any of the trade are free sellers. Generally speaking, when manufacturers want wool [illegible] the demand [illegible] to hold [illegible] prices that are [illegible] realized but the prospects ahead are [illegible] for a general improvement in all kinds of business. Both cotton and woolen goods have already taken a decided start and there is a much better feeling. Manufacturers who have been in the [illegible] this week have talked more encouragingly. The demand for woolens is fully up to expectation and this no doubt has led them to purchase wool with more confidence. We have no doubt prices are at their lowest point and buyers make no mistake when they have the largest and best assortment in the country to select from. Wool comes in about as fast as it goes out and buyers who may visit us next week will find in our lofts some of the best wool grown. Interior markets have been quiet but the clip has been sold up closer than for many years and what is left in the interior now attracts very little attention especially as it cannot be purchased except at extreme prices. In Kentucky about 100,000 lbs have been taken at [illegible] and this is a higher figure than could be obtained here when [illegible] other states [illegible]

NEW YORK Aug 29—Governments [illegible] firm. Sales of railway bonds to-day foot up [illegible] Stocks were [illegible] at the opening with a decline of [illegible] from final figures last evening, and during the first fifteen minutes there was a further [illegible] decline. This was followed by a slow [illegible] moderate reaction, and the market became extremely dull. The announcement made shortly after [illegible] that a dividend on preferred stock of the Northwestern company had been declared and that amounted to only 1½ per cent instead of [illegible] was a signal for a break in all the grangers, which the remainder of the list sympathized. Declines in the last forty five minutes were [illegible] to 2 per cent, the greatest weakness being in grangers, being in Vanderbilts and Lackawanna. Comparing prices this evening with those of a week ago the most important changes are a decline of 4¾ in Northwestern, 6¾ in Omaha common and 4¾ in preferred and 2¾ in Northern Pacific preferred. None of the active list shows any advance. The market closed weak, with a decidedly bearish feeling.

The market for mining shares was quiet, with renewed activity in Alma, which sold at [illegible] to 9, Belmont 9, Bulwer $4.30, Central Arizona 18, Bodie $4.90, Little Pittsburg 25, Barcelona 10.

THE TIMBER OF OUR MOUNTAINS

An Argument for Withholding it from Sale, in Order to Preserve It

SALEM, Aug. 28

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN of August 23, under the head of "An Oregon Alp" the vicinity of Mount Hood is spoken of as "The National Park," and further on the writer alludes to the fact that from the acclivities of the mountain the sources of many rivers may be seen.

Being much interested in and having considerable acquaintance with the Cascade range at a point south of Mt. Hood and having an acquaintance with several who annually seek the fastnesses of this fine range of mountains as a health giving means of recreation and for study of uncontaminated nature, the question has often been mooted at our camp fires: Can nothing be done to preserve these primeval forests for the enjoyment of those who come after us.

Conceding that the greatest good of the greatest number ought to be the basis of any action disposing of any considerable portion of the public domain, the question arises: would not the public justify—nay does it not demand—the holding, by the national government of all mountain ranges which are the sources of important rivers and whose forest growths are now or will probably become of importance to large districts of adjacent country by nature timberless. It is conceded I believe that the timber growth on mountain ranges modifies climate very considerably in the summer causing more uniform rainfall. It is also conceded that the preservation of forests on mountain ranges tends to make the flow of streams feeding from them more uniform by defending the snow which falls in winter, from a too rapid melting in the spring and by attracting rain clouds during the summer months. For the public interest in this office of forests the great state of New York is being constrained to buy out private ownership in the Adirondack mountains as a means of preserving what remains of forest growth and the flow of some of her streams. Let any one who cares to give a thought to such a subject, glance at a map of Oregon and he will soon see what a net work of streams have their sources mainly in the Cascade range. I believe it would not be too much to say that three-fourths of the water of the Willamette flows from the Cascade range. The same is true I believe of the Umpqua and the Rogue river. It is much more than true of the Deschutes feeding off the eastern side of the range. Great interests are already planted on the water of the Willamette, the permanency of which (not to say their growth and enlargement in the future) depends on the permanent flow of its waters.

In addition to the foregoing reason for preserving the forest growth of the Cascades from the destruction in private ownership is sure to induce is the wisdom of a government reserve in the future in the interest of the general public. This to some may seem like an absurdity, but here are facts that point to a not distant day when the timber of the Cascades will be attacked for use of the inhabitants of this valley. The saw timber that is the fir growth of the Willamette valley proper is already pretty well used up. Salem gets most of her building timber and lumber from the Coast range and from pretty near its summit. Albany gets hers mainly from the Cascades. Corvallis from the Coast range. This all points to the time approaching when the mountains around the Willamette valley will be the resource for lumber, and when that time comes the question of where the timber shall be cut will involve the questions of the probable influence of such cutting upon the climate and the flow of the rivers. Would it not be well then while these lands are valueless to private entry that they should be withdrawn from sale down to a certain altitude above the sea level and held under the control of government, so that when the timber is needed it shall only be cut under its permission and direction.

My proposition then is to keep the timber growth of mountain ranges like the Cascades in the control of the government to be so managed as to preserve unimpaired the flow of our rivers. By so doing the grand and beautiful scenery of these ranges will be common ground for the citizens of the United States to visit and enjoy, for health and recreation for all time to come. In making this proposition I wish to be understood that my idea accords with that of the writer of "An Oregon Alp" in that a tent or a number of tents is every way better than buildings of any kind upon or near any remarkable place. There is no reason why the poor citizen who desires or should desire to climb an Oregon Alp either on the slopes of Mts Hood, Jefferson or the Three Sisters should be forced to undergo the humiliation of feeling that he alone of the crowd cannot afford to pay extortionate accommodation bills in order to see these grand and beautiful sights like other people. It is forty three years ago since the writer saw Niagara Falls without money because he had not to spend on the scores of catch penny traps even then set around there. This has since increased until the State of New York has to buy out the immense net work of tribulation on those who desire to see that grand attraction freely. The same will be true in a few years in regard to the Yellowstone park. The way through it will be hedged about with [illegible] schemes to such a degree that a poor citizen with any self respect will not go there. Ex-President Arthur did a bad thing when he went there [illegible] leading the way for all to follow who desire to imitate presidents. He made a wise recommendation however in his last [illegible] in recommending the withdrawal of mountain ranges from sale. J M

OHIO'S PERENNIAL ISSUE

Minneapolis Tribune

The liquor business in Ohio is as free as water. The prohibitionists desire to bring it under some form of regulation and control and to make it pay back to society in the form of taxes or license fees a part of the cost and burden which it indirectly imposes on society. The democrats propose to maintain the present disgraceful regime. So long as things remain as they are the principal state issue in Ohio will always be the liquor issue. The republicans put into operation the highly successful Scott tax law. It was adjudged valid by the supreme court. The democrats got control of the state, packed the bench and by a partisan majority of three secured a reversal of the decision causing the towns of the state heavy loss of revenue and much consequent annoyance. A republican victory in Ohio this fall means an earnest effort to settle the liquor question decently and satisfactorily. A democratic victory means the continuance of the free liquor regime. Respectable democrats—there are some such in Ohio—ought for once to rise above their blind devotion to party and vote the republican ticket in order to get the perennial liquor question disposed of. There are national issues which will play a part in the Ohio campaign but there can be no successful evading of the paramount local issue. The republicans had better not trim or dodge, and it is not likely that they will attempt any equivocation. They represent the respectable public opinion of the state. The prohibitionists will of course, be in close league with the democrats, as usual intent upon [illegible]

Thank You Is Better

Good Housekeeping: "Thanks" is cold, clumsy and fails in the purpose intended to be accomplished by its use. It is heartless, meaningless and harsh to a sensitive listener, and rolls itself off the tongue as if it was something to be got rid of at the earliest possible moment. "Thank you" is warm, considerate and polite. It would be the coldest kind of a stoic, indeed, who could give the words full expression without both the speaker and the listener getting sight of a little ray of sunshine that would otherwise have escaped notice. Properly expressed, they soothe and satisfy both they who give and they who receive, and both find a little well of gladness springing up in their hearts that had before been an undiscovered treasure.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY Aug 29

Weather smoky and thick The merchandise lines are in good movement, recent arrivals including large quantities of goods to make up fall stocks The grocery [illegible] are distributing about the usual quantity, value changes not being frequent Cereals do not move as rapidly as expected probably because of unsettled [illegible] in wheat and some confidence in the future for oats and barley However many holders of the last are letting go feeling that prices have too much upon the uncertainty of operations at San Francisco More oats would go out with larger freight room supplied Barley receipts from the eastern section marked some increase during the calendar week coming mostly from points not covered by eastern shippers The local quotation is about [illegible] for good brewing Eastward fruit shipments also show an increase Little City taking freely One car of apples left to-day for Butte and two cars are being made up for more eastern points Montana and Dakota shipments do not figure in published statements of exports Meats rule low at the east and large quantities are marketed here in consequence To-day's press dispatches do not altogether confirm late reports of damage to the New York hop crop Rust has appeared in several places One large [illegible] reports a loss of 100,000 pounds while another has increased its acreage [illegible] per cent From all information now at hand the damage will not materially influence future values The New York grower is contracting at [illegible] and the Californian at [illegible] With large contracts made there need be little anxiety as to the future

Overland receipts include 6? cs bacon [illegible] hams, 45 ctes 4?2 bxs starch 1 cs 1 bbl [illegible] kegs syrup 1 cs maple do 1 bbl baking powder 10 bbls currants 156 pkgs tobacco 3 cars stoves 60 qr 100 hf bbls beer, 22 bxs 242 kgs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Last 24 hours 3508 ctls wheat 4898 ctls oats [illegible] sks potatoes, 18 lbs hides 26 cs eggs, 1 4 bxs fruit 10 pkgs butter [illegible] ctls of meal Also [illegible] ctls wheat [illegible] bbls flour, 800 ctls oats 805 ctls barley 377 m lbs from the eastern section

FREIGHTS—Market inactive for both spot and futures Owners [illegible] expressed a marked willingness to accept [illegible] shippers and both are waiting for a decided break. The en route list receives slight additions

WHEAT—Foreign markets steady with a rather less firm front to-day San Francisco is well kept up by scant offerings but shippers have so far met their light engagements. Our two sections have given them material aid and they are inclined to push this trade Best Walla Walla and valley sell there at $1 [illegible] and $1 40 These figures are above a parity with what has all along been offered here and have prevented any considerable buying by local houses They are showing more disposition to accept the inevitable and report says a round lot of Walla Walla has sold at an advance on $1 15 it being a choice and well [illegible] parcel In the present unsettled condition of the market an accurate quotation is hardly possible but San Francisco values less freight and charges are generally talked of The Bedford's cargo [illegible] tons is reported by telegraph as sold for $1 40 It was doubtless valley Late receipts and San Francisco shipments have [illegible] a [illegible] of [illegible] crop

OATS—Oregon shipments have been without effect below but considerable firmness is necessary to maintain values As they hinge largely upon the barley situation some dealers are losing faith Others have been scouring the country for consignments or purchases for shipment Sellers part very freely with a good portion of their product, believing it best to sell We quote best feed [illegible] common, [illegible] and inferior [illegible]

FLOUR—Trade quiet and slow Stocks are enough for all needs and grinding is light Values apparently steady

FRUITS—Choice apples for shipment sold [illegible] to 70c common varieties [illegible] Peaches in less [illegible] dealing as few California are received and the best bring [illegible] Pears of choice bring [illegible] per pound for shipment Some varieties of prunes and plums are going east Grapes will be in stock Monday at about last prices Melons in large [illegible] ness at $1 50@2 per dozen cantaloupes $[illegible] per crate, muskmelons in no favor

PROVISIONS—Values continue low but with an undertone that seems improving There is some talk of a deal being started east although it is quite safe to say the outside crowd have no good information if such is actually the case We quote local jobbing prices for ordinary parcels City cured hams 10@11 bacon [illegible] shoulders [illegible] country cured generally [illegible] less eastern hams choice [illegible] bacon 9@10c Lard quiet for choice Quote best eastern tins 10@10½ best local in pails 10@10 [illegible] common 8c

POULTRY—Chickens close weak at irregular owing to liberal offerings Extremes are not generally realized Quote young $[illegible] old $[illegible] A few turkeys sold late in the week [illegible] request

EGGS—Receipts include [illegible] cases for shipment. Arrivals have ruled only fair for three days and stocks are only fair As [illegible] is asked and received

WOOL—Holdings here have been greatly reduced by recent shipments and receipts are almost nothing

The Boston Shipping List of August 21 says The excitement in wool continues and the aggregate sales of the week were a surprise as [illegible] scarcely realized [illegible] taking our rounds that the business would come up to [illegible] weeks The transactions [illegible] 100 pounds the largest business with one exception of any week this year For some six weeks the average business has been at the rate of 4 000 000 pounds per week but it appears to us that this activity cannot be continued for many weeks ahead while at the same time there is no indication of a lull at present While manufacturers can purchase wool at present current rates and have plenty of storage room they make no mistake by stocking up with all the desirable wool they can find We believe that prices are at their lowest point now and later in the season it will be hard to duplicate the purchases recently made The activity for so many successive weeks has not [illegible] prices as yet The tone of the market is firm and the tendency points to higher prices but not immediately There is more or less wool on hand that is not offering except at higher figures than are now current but notwithstanding the sale of nearly 25,000,000 lbs in [illegible] weeks prices for washed and unwashed fleeces have scarcely varied. Manufacturers are free buyers and many of the trade are free sellers Generally speaking when manufacturers want wool [illegible] to meet the demand than to hold on for prices that are seldom realized but the prospects ahead are encouraging for a general improvement in all kinds of business Both cotton and woolen goods have already taken a decided start and there is much better feeling Manufacturers who have been in the market this week have talked more encouragingly The demand for woolens is fully up to expectation and this no doubt has led them to purchase wool with more confidence We have no doubt prices are at their lowest point and buyers can make no mistake when they have the largest and best assortment in the country to select from Wool comes in about as fast as it goes out and buyers who may visit us next week will find in our lofts some of the best wool grown Interior markets have been quiet but the clip has been sold up closer than for many years and what is left in the interior now attracts very little attention especially as it cannot be purchased except at extreme prices In Kentucky about 100 000 lbs have been taken at [illegible] and this is a higher figure than could be obtained [illegible] other states [illegible]

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK Aug 29—Governments [illegible] firm Sales of railway bonds to-day foot up [illegible] than any day in [illegible] Stocks were weak at the opening with a decline of [illegible] from final figures last evening and during the first fifteen minutes there was a further fractional decline This was followed by a slow [illegible] reaction, and the market became extremely dull The announcement made shortly after [illegible] that a dividend on preferred stock of the Northwestern company had been declared and that it amounted to only 1¾ per cent instead of [illegible] was a signal for a break in all the grangers which the remainder of the list sympathized Declines in the last forty five minutes were from 1 to 2 per cent, the greatest weakness next to grangers being in Vanderbilts and Lackawanna

Comparing prices this evening with those of a week ago the most important changes are a decline of 4¾ in Northwestern 6¾ in Omaha common and 4¾ in preferred and 2½ in Northern Pacific preferred None of the active list shows any advance. The market closed weak, with a decidedly bearish feeling

The market for mining shares was quiet, with a renewed activity in Amia, which sold at 7 to 9, Sierra Nevada 9, Bulwer $4 30, Central Arizona 16 Bodie $4 90, Little Barcelona 25, Barcelona 10.

THE TIMBER OF OUR MOUNTAINS

An Argument for Withholding it from Sale, in Order to Preserve It

SALEM Aug 28

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN of August 23, under the head of "An Oregon Alp" the vicinity of Mount Hood is spoken of as "The National Park" and further on the writer alludes to the fact that from the declivities of the mountain the sources of many rivers may be seen

Being much interested in and having considerable acquaintance with the Cascade range at a point south of Mt Hood and having an acquaintance with several who annually seek the fastnesses of this fine range of mountains as a health giving means of recreation and for study of uncontaminated nature the question has often been mooted at our camp fires "Can nothing be done to preserve the primeval forests for the enjoyment of those who come after us"

Conceding that the greatest good of the greatest number ought to be the basis of any action disposing of any considerable portion of the public domain the question arises would not the public justify—nay does it not demand—the holding by the national government of all mountain ranges which are the sources of important rivers and whose forest growths are now or will probably become of importance to large districts of adjacent country by future timberless It is conceded I believe that the timber growth on mountain ranges modifies climate very considerably in the summer causing more uniform rainfall It is also conceded that the preservation of forests on mountain ranges tend to make the flow of streams feeding from them more uniform by defending the snow which falls in winter from a too rapid melting in the spring, and by attracting rain clouds during the summer months For the public interest in this office of forests the great state of New York is being constrained to buy out private ownership in the Adirondack mountains as a means of preserving what remains of forest growth, and the flow of some of her streams Let any one who cares to give a thought to such a subject, glance at a map of Oregon and he will soon see what a net work of streams have their sources mainly in the Cascade range I believe it would not be too much to say that three fourths of the water of the Willamette flows from the Cascade range The same is true of [illegible] of the Umpqua and the Rogue river It is much more than true of the Deschutes feeding off the eastern side of the range Great interests are already planted on the water of the Willamette the permanency of which (not to say their growth and enlargement in the future) depends on the permanent flow of its waters

In addition to the foregoing reason for preserving the forest growth of the Cascades from the destruction private ownership is sure to entail is the wisdom of a government reserve in the future in the interest of the general public. This to some may seem like an absurdity, but here are facts that point to a not distant day when the timber of the Cascades will be attacked for use of the inhabitants of this valley The saw timber (that is the fir growth) of the Willamette valley proper is already pretty well used up Salem gets most of her building timber and lumber from the Coast range and from pretty near its summit Albany gets hers mainly from the Cascades Corvallis hers from the Coast range This all points to the time approaching when the mountains around the Willamette valley will be the resource for lumber and when that time comes the question of where the timber shall be cut will involve the questions of the probable influence of such cutting upon the climate and the flow of the rivers Would it not be well then while these lands are valueless for private entry that they should be withdrawn from sale down to a certain altitude above the sea level and held under the control of government so that when the timber is needed it shall only be cut under its permission and direction

My proposition then is to keep the timber growth of mountain ranges like the Cascades in the control of the government to be so managed as to preserve unimpaired the flow of our rivers. By so doing the grand and beautiful scenery of these ranges will be common ground for the citizens of the United States to visit and enjoy for health and recreation for all time to come. In making this proposition I wish to be understood that my idea accords with that of the writer of "An Oregon Alp" in that a tent or a number of tents is every way better than buildings of any kind upon or near any remarkable place There is no reason why the poor citizen who desires or shall desire to climb an Oregon Alp either on the slopes of Mts Hood, Jefferson or the Three Sisters should be forced to undergo the humiliation of feeling that he alone of the crowd cannot afford to pay exorbitant accommodation bills in order to see those grand and beautiful sights like other people It is forty three years ago since the writer saw Niagara Falls without money because he had not to spend on the scores of catch penny traps even then set around there This has since increased until the state of New York has to buy [illegible] the immense network of traps [illegible] on those who desire to see that grand natural curiosity The same will be true in a few years in and of the Yellowstone Park. It was [illegible] and through it will be hedged about with catch penny schemes to such a degree that a poor citizen with any self respect will not go there Ex President Arthur did a good thing when he went there to [illegible] by leading the way for all to follow who desire to imitate presidents He made a wise recommendation however in his last message to congress in recommending the withdrawal of mountain ranges from sale J M

Minneapolis Tribune

The liquor business in Ohio is as free as water The republicans desire to bring it under some form of regulation and control and to make it pay back to society in the form of taxes or license fees a part of the cost and burden which it so freely imposes on society The democrats propose to maintain the present disgraceful regime So long as things remain as they are the principal state issue in Ohio will always be the liquor issue The republicans put into operation the highly successful Scott tax law It was adjudged valid by the supreme court The democrats got control of the state, packed the bench and by a partisan majority of [illegible] one secured a reversal of the decision causing the towns of the state heavy loss of revenue and much consequent annoyance A republican victory in Ohio this fall means an earnest effort to settle the liquor question decently and satisfactorily A democratic victory means the continuance of the free liquor regime Respectable democrats—there are some such in Ohio—ought for once to rise above their blind devotion to party and vote the republican ticket in order to get the perennial liquor question disposed of There are national issues which will play a part in the Ohio campaign but there can be no successful evading of the paramount local issue The republicans had better not trim or dodge and it is not likely that they will attempt any equivocation They represent the respectable public opinion of the state The prohibitionists will, of course, be in close league with the democrats, as usual intent upon the [illegible] of the state

Platforms Less Useful than Crazy Quilts

St Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep)

Democratic platforms, for some years past have borne much resemblance to what are known among the ladies as crazy quilts in which appear bits and [illegible] of all kinds and qualities of material from every available quarter But the resemblance ceases here for the crazy quilt is useful when completed while the platforms of the democrats become able to stand [illegible] they finally [illegible] constructed

Trying to Whip in Protectionist Democrats

Nashville American (Dem)

Congress will meet this winter with as many different opinions on the tariff question as there are members of congress The public will expect of the democratic party some action on the line of tariff reform This can only be done by every democratic member of congress going into party caucus on this question with a firm determination to abide by the spirit and the letter of the Chicago platform

Those Troublesome Mugwump Allies.

Albany Journal

It was the Atlanta Constitution (dem) which spoke flippantly some time ago of the mugwumps [illegible] Now the New York Graphic (dem) describes them as [illegible] most diminutive [illegible] To pat one that most [illegible] ten time as many democrats

'Thank You' is Better

Good Housekeeping "Thanks" is cold, careless and fails of the purpose intended to be accomplished by its use It is heartless, meaningless and harsh to a sensitive listener, and rolls itself off the tongue as if it was something to be got rid of at the earliest possible moment. "Thank you" is warm considerate and polite It would be the coldest kind of a stoic, indeed, who could give the words full expression without both the speaker and the listener getting sight of a little ray of sunshine that would otherwise have escaped notice Properly expressed, they soothe and satisfy both they who give and they who receive, and both find a little seed of gladness springing up in their hearts that had before been an undiscovered treasure.
